Perpetual motion of a

A part of SHS
 One small piece of a kaleidoscope pattern
 One original shape and size among 1800.
 So minute, yet significant Growing together to form the one great scene
 This is the student of SHS.

Varied faces showing varied emotions.
Faces in a crowded hallway
On a lonely staircase
Each characterizing a sincere emotion
Reflecting a true feeling.
Faces mirroring boredom,
Inspiration, happiness
Regret and hope.

Change in a kaleidoscope
 A different, variegated pattern
 Deviation from the original form.
 Appearances and attitudes are transient,
 Changeable.
 Changes, natural and planned
 Form a new creation
 SHS—new and different from 1970.

The kaleidoscope of challenges
 To be faced and conquered.
 The many and different challenges
 That make up the day of a student.
 Some seemingly insignificant
 But so important
 To the conquering of that one final challenge
 Of an individual in a modern world.

Gay Mardi Gras Atmosphere Adds to 1970

New Orleans came to life in the SHS fieldhouse as the setting for the 1970 Junior-Senior Prom, "Mississippi Madness". Couples entered into the atmosphere as they stepped through a colorful boat, the Delta Queen, into a waterfront scene. Walls took on the image of storefronts and the Deans of Swing played on the lawn of a huge white mansion complete with pillars.

Midway through the evening the queen, Sally Moreno and the king, last year's foreign exchange student Cezar Busatto were crowned. The king and queen were attended by Steve Yemm, James Olson, Mark House, Edward Jones, Linda Heaton, Denise Andreas, Rhonda Renner and Vicki Maple.

Carefree spirits from prom lingered into the wee hours of the next morning as the restlessness of Mardi Gras continued. Music echoed in corridors, prizes were claimed, ideas were exchanged, and memories cherished.

Go ahead and admire, Don Weissenburger and Sue Dirks; the Juniors really did outdo themselves.

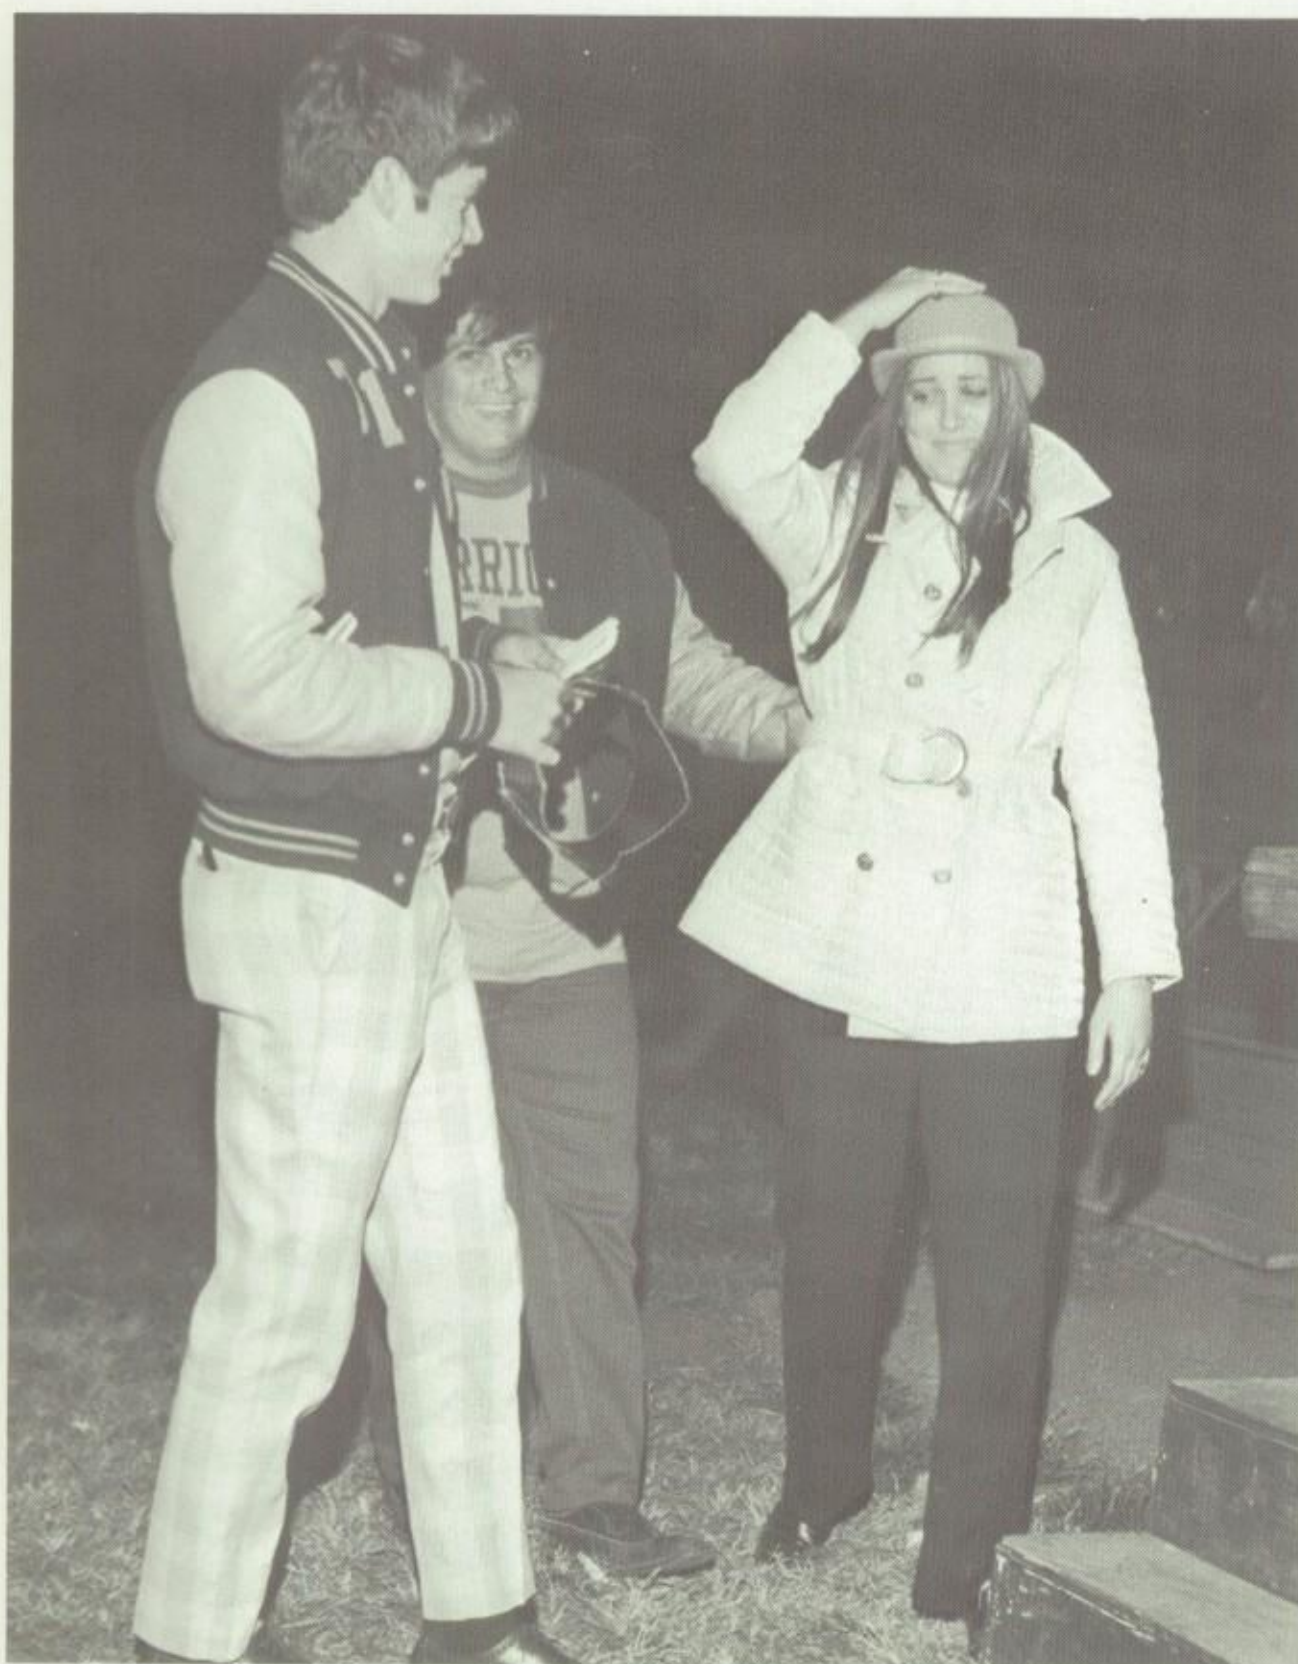

Homecoming Festivities Dampened by Rain

The first of the activities on the Homecoming agenda was the bonfire sponsored by the Senior class. The turnout helped to boost the spirit not only for SHS fans but also for the football players who came through with a smashing victory which the rain did not spoil. After the bonfire, the students had a flashlight procession led over to the stadium where the coronation of the queen and her court took place.

The first event of the following day was the annual parade including the floats and cars carrying the queen and attendants. After the parade, the students assembled at the SHS Fieldhouse for the pep session. Here the places were announced for the floats prepared by the different clubs and classes. The theme was "Fairy Tales" and first places were won by the Junior class, the French club, and Robed Choir. Both of the games were overwhelming victories for SHS over the opposition of Streator.

The following night, the students danced to the music of the Forest City Sound. This year both the students and the returning alumni were presented with a dance and game festivities they can take pride in.

Sadie Hawkins Ideal Opportunity for Shy

Once in a while the boys need a little bit of "umph" called encouragement to get them started in the new school year. This chance usually comes rolling along in mid-November. The chance is called Sadie Hawkins. Girls finally have an opportunity to get the show on the road while the boys enjoy a night without payment.

This year a band entitled "The Mourning Rain" provided the entertainment. Students from the three high schools in Sterling and Rock Falls were invited. This was an attempt to get students from these schools to work together. The attendance at the dance proved the schools were working together and the girls were giving their favorite fellow a night out. Next year, girls can again use the opportunity to treat the boy they have been dating.

Holiday Inn Provides Setting for Sno-Ball

The annual Co-Ed Council Sno-Ball dance was held January 2 at the Holiday Inn. The Forest City Sound provided the music for the formal holiday dance. About 165 couples from Sterling, Rock Falls, and Newman attended the cooperative dance.

Chris Leseman, a senior at STHS, reigned as queen while Sue Yount and Sally Elliott, also STHS seniors, attended the queen. Attendants from Newman were Pam Schmitt and Carol Carew, also seniors.

Although the dance appeared to be enjoyable for those in attendance, it was not very successful financially. President Larry Frye stated that the council lost about $100 on the project.

The month of February brought about cold weather, but also a heart-warming experience for many couples at the Valentine Dance. Sponsored by the Sophomore Class, the dance proved a success, drawing many students to the multi-purpose room after a close game with Galesburg. The Sophomores chose Kim Harper and Cathy Swanson to reign the heart royalty for the evening.

The success of the Valentine Dance shows much promise for future money making projects of the Sophomore Class which will be attempted next year.

Norway and America Link Through Frode

SHS's ninth AFS Foreign Exchange student came from Oslo, Norway. Frode Fjeldberg made his home in Sterling with the John Player family. He was an active participant in Robed Choir, Student Council, National Honor Society, and X-Country. Below, Frode expresses himself for the WARRIOR.

Et aar i et amerikansk hjem og skole gav meg et godt innblikk et annet lands skikker og levemaate. Jeg traff aktive mennesker i et positivt og hyggelig milji. Selv haaper jeg aa ha hjulpet til aa bryte ned noen av de fordommene amerikanere har for fremmede land; og at vi alle har kommet naermere maalet for AFS: "Walk together, talk together."

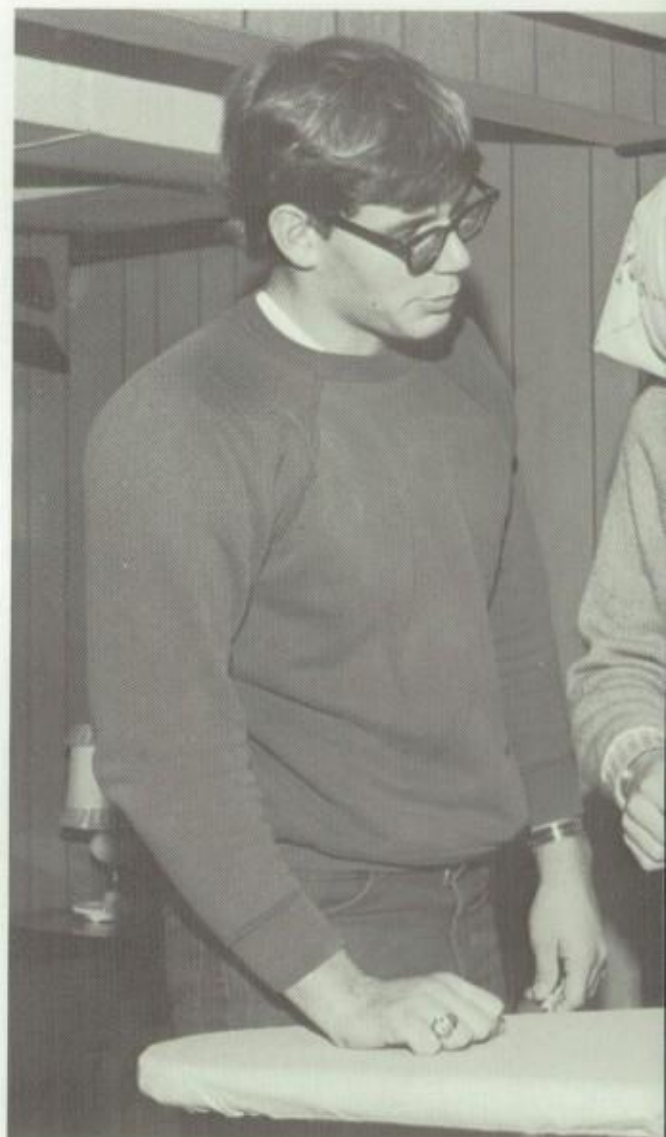

One year with an American family and school, gave me a fine opportunity to see another country's way of life and customs. I met active people in a positive and nice milieu. Myself, I hope I helped to break down some of the prejudice Americans have about foreign countries, and that we all have come closer to the aim of AFS: "Walk together, talk together."

Frode's life in America leaves little room for quiet. Here he finds time to relax with a paper.

Diplomas, Recognitions, Excitement Mark

On June 3, 1970, Sterling Township High School once again said good-bye and good luck to a graduating class of over 300 industrious seniors.

The commencement exercises began with student speaker Rich Shaffner, president of the class of '70. He was followed by Dan Breed, Ed Jones, and Lucy Sutter who were chosen by their classmates to speak at the ceremony. The senior boys ensemble performed prior to Mr. Yemm's and Mr. Sutter's comments. The program ended with the presentation of diplomas by Mr. Kelsey and Mr. Haglund.

At the opening of 1970 graduation ceremonies, Phil Callighan led singing of the national anthem.

Struggling through those four years doesn't seem quite so bad now as these graduating seniors receive their diplomas.

ORGANIZATIONS

Annual Staff Designs New Cover for the '71

The 1971 WARRIOR staff was organized differently than it had been before. Two sports writers were added to the copy staff and an index staff made up of sophomores was organized. The index staff was added to serve as training for underclassmen who will serve on the staff next year.

The most noticeable change in the 1971 WARRIOR was a new style cover. The cover, called lithographic, is a reproduction through photography of art work done by Karen Albert.

The book was coordinated by Co-Editors-in-Chief Sandy Wolens and Marcia Kelsey. The page plans for the book were made by Sue Helms and the layout staff. Copy was written by the copy staff, headed by Betty Edison. Karma Friel and her staff of photographers provided pictures for the book. Miss Susan Tenney served as the advisor for the group.

Jef Player, Business Manager, and his staff were responsible for the financial management of the book. Advised by Mr. Miller, the staff sold books and ads for the Ads Section and for sponsor pages in the middle.

SCRIPT Thrives With New Advisor,

To publish a bi-monthly newspaper requires a lot of work. The SCRIPT editors and their new advisor, Miss Vickrey, will attest to that. Students who pick up their copy of the SCRIPT on Friday morning from their homeroom teacher's desk little realize the effort put into its publication.

SCRIPT editors assign stories to the staff, collect them proofread them, and send them in to the printer. Editors are also responsible for special articles and editorials. Then the printer sends the line length of the stories back and the basic layout for the page is made. Finally, the printer returns a complete SCRIPT.

Tom Johnson served to coordinate various staffs as the editor of the SCRIPT. Dwight Oltmanns, last year's editor, served as Managing Editor for the 1970-71 newspaper.

Student Council Proves to Be a Worthwhile

Student Council this year proved itself to be a service not only to the students of SHS but to the community as well, as it participated in many worthwhile projects. To start off the year, the street dance was held. This dance is one way in which the council gets money to sponsor and carry out numerable projects. Homecoming, which was put on jointly by the council and S Club, was again a success.

The newly proposed dress code that was tried throughout the first quarter was taken before the school board in hopes of getting a permanent approval. The council was also able to donate money to community programs and continue the scholarships started by last year's council, making the year a successful one. Despite all criticism, the council was able to accomplish its goals.

IMA Offers Many Services Necessary to Aid Education

The IMA can best be defined as a group of students responsible for the efficient running of the SHS IMC. These students give up their free hours every day to work in the IMC helping the librarians to assist the students and faculty in their use of books.

The Instructional Media Aides also function as a club. They hold regular monthly meetings and belong to larger area library associations. The IMA hosted the fall meeting of the Rock River Student Librarian's Association. It also belongs to Illinois Student Librarian's Association.

The Radio Club is a small group of boys banded together to promote knowledge and understanding of electronics and the use of the radio.

In addition to spending much time learning about radios, the organization worked on money-making projects to pay off equipment they have and to buy new equipment. They also work toward obtaining licenses for members. Three boys have gained the first or novice license. Two of them will soon be attempting general license status. A general license gives the privilege of using voice rather than Morse Code.

French Club Engages New Plans Including

This year was a very successful one for the French Club, as they began the year by electing officers and drawing up a constitution for the club members. The officers chosen were Crete Over, Marty Breed, Debbie McConnell, and Sue Stanaway.

As the year progressed, so did the intuition of the French Club, as they won first place in humor for the Homecoming float that the members prepared for the parade.

For the Christmas party, the members went to the hospital to carol for the sick. Candles were sold by members to help finance the trip to Montreal over the vacation.

To end a successful year, the club took the annual trip to Chicago in the spring.

Latin Traditions and Celebrations Provide

The Latin Club Officers are: Jodie Hay, Mike Matznick, Jan Flynn, and Mel Leseman.

When the word foreign language is mentioned, many people think of it as a non-interesting subject. This was not true of Latin Club. During the year, Latin Club participated in many activities. When the Christmas season arrived the Latin Club students prepared for the Io Saturnalia Party. This festival was in honor of the God Saturn. At the festival, gifts were exchanged and cards were made. As spring came around the corner, Latin Club celebrated the Roman Bacchanalia. To celebrate this banquet, the members wore mythological clothing and ate food similar to the Romans. Toward the end of the school year the Latin students participated in the making of several Roman projects such as catapults to emphasize Latin tradition.

Along with these celebrations and projects, Latin Club sent students to district and state Latin contests. Also, the Latin Club members provided Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for several needy families in Sterling.

This year's Latin Club officers were: President Mike Matznick; Vice-President Jan Flynn; Secretary Jodie Hay; and Treasurer Mel Leseman.

German Club Finds Perspective This Year

German Club is putting on a fresh face this year and as Vice-President Dan Fitzgerald says, "The primary aim is to erase the stigma of being simply a do-nothing organization."

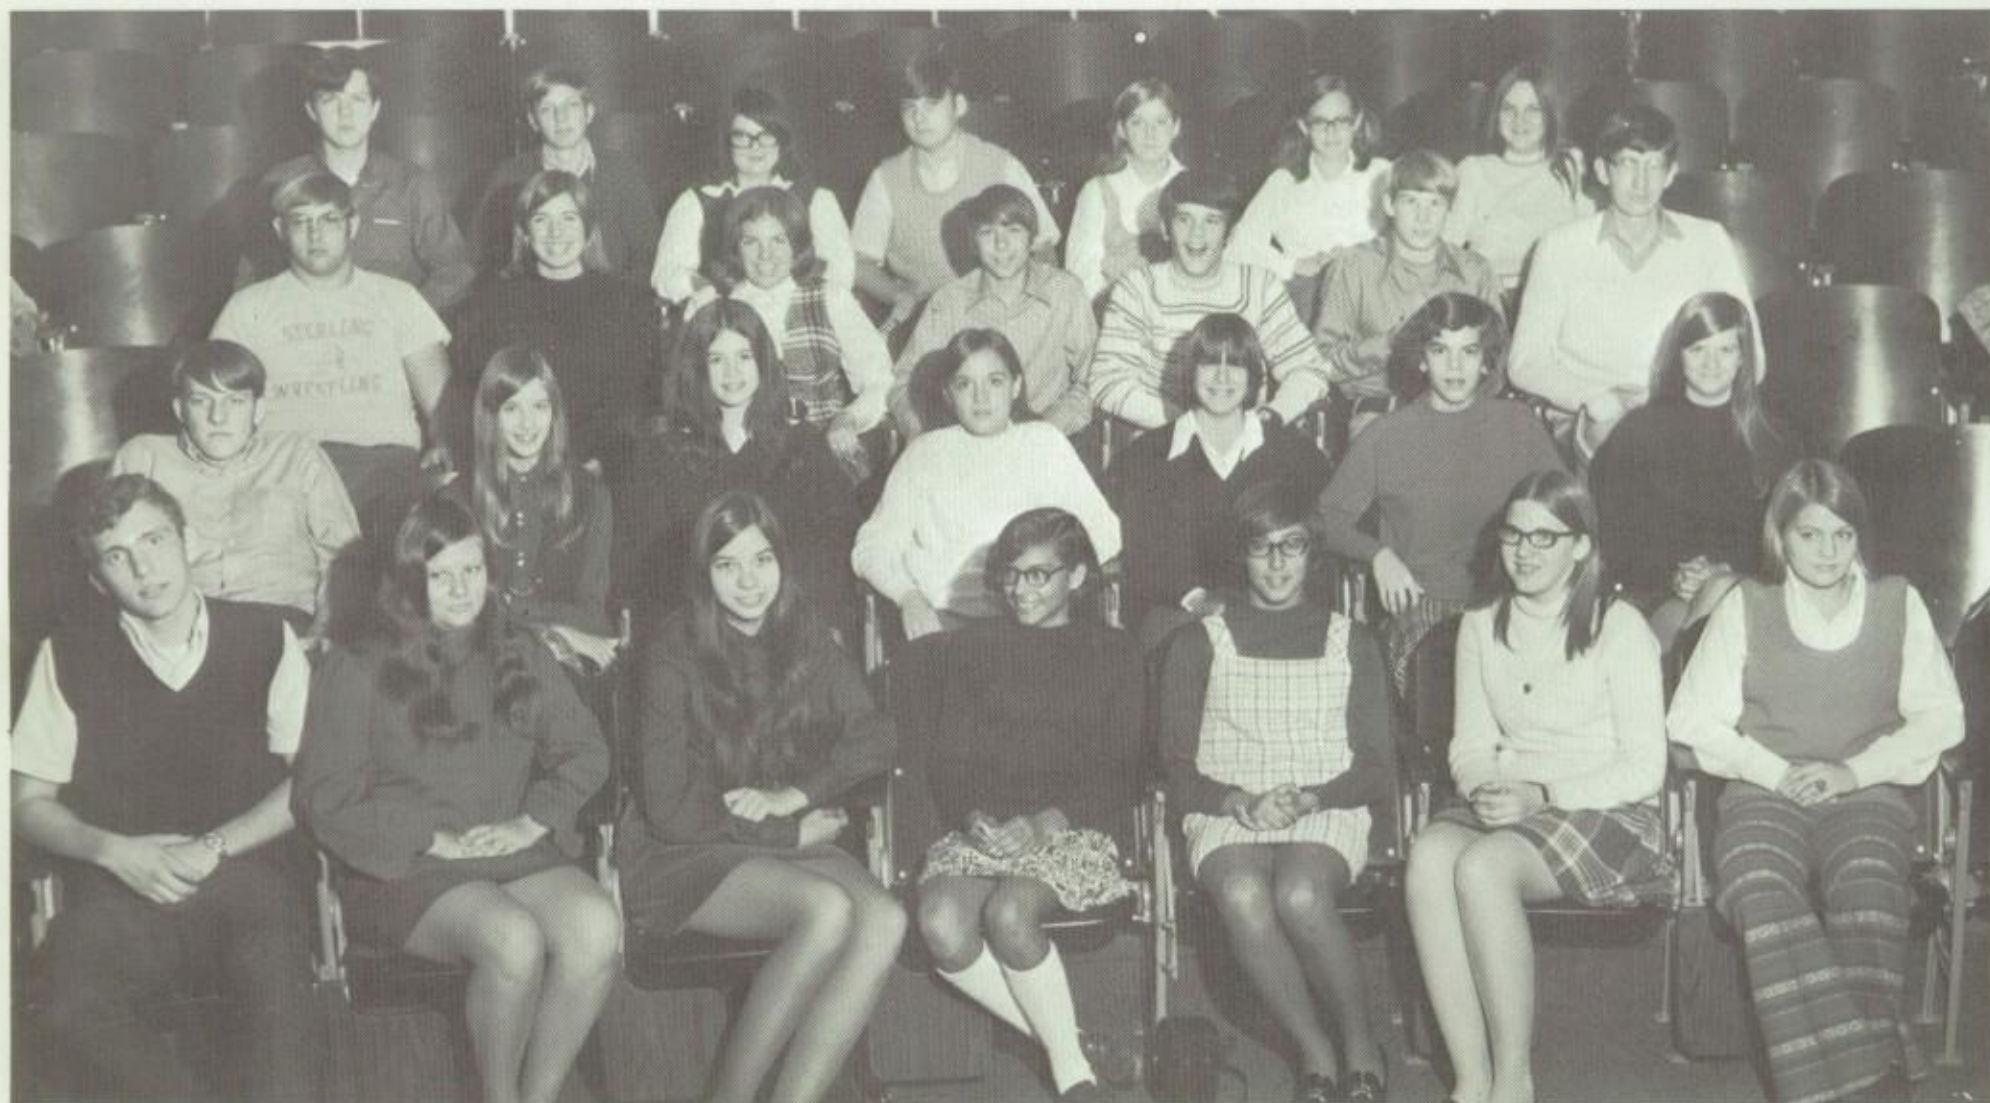

Gary Compton holds the position of President with Dan Fitzgerald as his replacement. Greg Rehner is the Treasurer and Lorna Geil takes care of records as the Secretary.

The German Club plans to change their image by reverting to the old purpose of the club. This original purpose was to learn about Germany. Members plan to renew the emphasis on German Culture through travelogues on Germany and lectures on topics such as German history and mythology.

Thus this year's German club offered excellent experiences.

Spanish Club Gives Party at Christmas

Original Spanish customs are being expressed here in Sterling as the Spanish Club sponsored a party for the first grade Mexican-American children of this area. The traditional Pinata was broken and the children enjoyed one of the earliest forms of fun and entertainment of our Spanish heritage.

The club was constantly learning of the Spanish customs. President Hazel Mattson, Vice-President Cheryl Dickhut, secretary Jeannie Eigsti, and treasurer Marilyn Eigsti helped to sponsor the usual Spanish Club trip to Chicago.

Thespians Create Reader's Theatre, Children's Theatre

The National Thespian Society is an exclusive group composed only of those who have given extensively of their time and talents.

This year Don Weissenberger took the helm as president while his brother Dave assisted as the vice president. Sue Weissenberger, as the recording secretary completed the family circle. The treasurer was Janet Bend and Rene Morris was the secretary.

Aided by these capable officers the group plans to produce and direct a Children's and a Reader's Theatre. Also with the profits they received from selling soft drinks during the biannual Drama Workshop productions the Thespians plan to see either a professional or college play.

SHS Speech Team In Keen Competition

The old adage, "Competition is a life trade," is still true today. SHS speakers participated in tough competition from early October to mid April. They proved to be tough rivals against the other competitors. Although team effort was an important factor in scoring, individual effort served as the basis of the scores.

The individual contestants participated in invitational, local, district, sectional, and state speech contests. Areas of competition were: after dinner speaking, radio speaking, extemp speaking, a verse reading, prose reading, serious dramatic reading, comedy reading, original monologue, original oration, oratorical declamation. The only team activity was the duet acting.

'The Best Laid Plans', a Big Success with

Drama Workshop's fall play was "The Best Laid Plans" by Fred Carmichael. And although it was presented in competition with an out of town game and Halloween night it was generally considered a success. Part of the play's success was due to the fast moving and amusing nature of the play itself.

The comedy opened when Claudia Westbrook, an elderly Ian Fleming type author, found herself called upon to act as liaison between our government and enemy powers. During her West Indian vacation, a spy dies in Ada's house. On him are secret plans which every government is after and since the plans are on the body, everyone tries to steal it. It moves from closet to bathroom to windowseat until no one knows where it is. When the body's twin brother shows up, there are even more complications.

Another reason for its success was the people involved in the play. It was directed by Mr. Rylander and Sig Niederer was the student director. The leading roles were portrayed by Rene Morris and Colleen McFadden.

Make-up crew carefully adds finishing touches on opening night to portray character of actors.

Teams Debate Air, Water Pollution in U.S.

It takes a great deal of time and hard work to be a member of the debate teams. Each night after school the members practice their speeches and approaches. Then on Saturday, the team travels state-wide to other schools or universities to meet the always tough competition. Despite this, Sterling was consistently one of the top-finishing schools in the final standings.

This year, the teams were divided into two categories: varsity and the novice. Members would then advance from novice to varsity competition as they became more experienced as debaters. By being a debater students are able to voice their opinions on controversial topics as well as organize their speaking skills.

The varsity debaters make a check of the facts.

Cadet Teachers and Teachers Aides Gain Useful Experience

Julie and Diane learn joys of grading papers, acting as cadet teachers in the FTA program.

Steve discusses future plans with Mrs. Osborn.

Future Teachers of America is a national organization through which students may gain information and experience about careers in the field of education. During the year FTA members looked at teaching realistically, learned of many careers in education, learned about themselves and other people, and helped others to voice their opinions about education. FTA helped students accomplish these goals by establishing cadet teachers and teacher aide programs, providing an exchange program for FTA members and securing information on college programs and scholarships. FTA assisted with information about the supply and demands for careers within education, and educational tours and field trips.

So, as you could see this year FTA was more than attending meetings, hearing speakers, serving refreshments. FTA members aimed to widen and fulfill future goals.

Eleven FFA Members Attained Height of 'Chapter Farmer'

President S. Long presides at a typical meeting of Future Farmers of America as Mr. Schick looks on.

FFA is more than an organization for today's young men in agriculture. The purpose of FFA is to develop today's leaders who will cooperate with and develop citizenship among themselves and others. Classroom study of agriculture prepares these boys to become more competent in their field.

Leaders of the FFA guided the boys through projects of the year. The FFA officers were: President Steve Long, Vice-President Frank Adams, Secretary Jim Wetzell, and Treasurer Ron Shank. Members of FFA climb a ladder of success. The first rung is called "green hands." Twelve members were inducted into this section. The middle of the ladder is called "chapter farmer." Eleven members have attained this height. The highest rung is the state farmer, won by Merle Peugh last year.

Future Homemakers Plan (70-71) Activities

The Future Homemakers of America took on many new projects this year, making it one of the more active organizations of SHS. Candy and scatter pins were sold by the members in order to help sponsor an adopted child from India. A float depicting an old woman in a shoe and her many children was entered in the Homecoming parade by the club. In December, the girls went caroling with their dads on the annual "Daddy-Date Night". Late in spring, all the members of FHA took a trip to a place not only of interest but also educational value. With spring came also the observance of National FHA week. A special honor this year was the fact that Sandy Long, a member of the Sterling chapter, was elected Sectional president over a four-county area.

Science Club Probes the Mysteries Around Us

Classroom studies of science give the student an opportunity to learn what causes the mysteries around us. Science Club probes deeper into this knowledge and allows the student to gain a more complete understanding of their learning by experimentation.

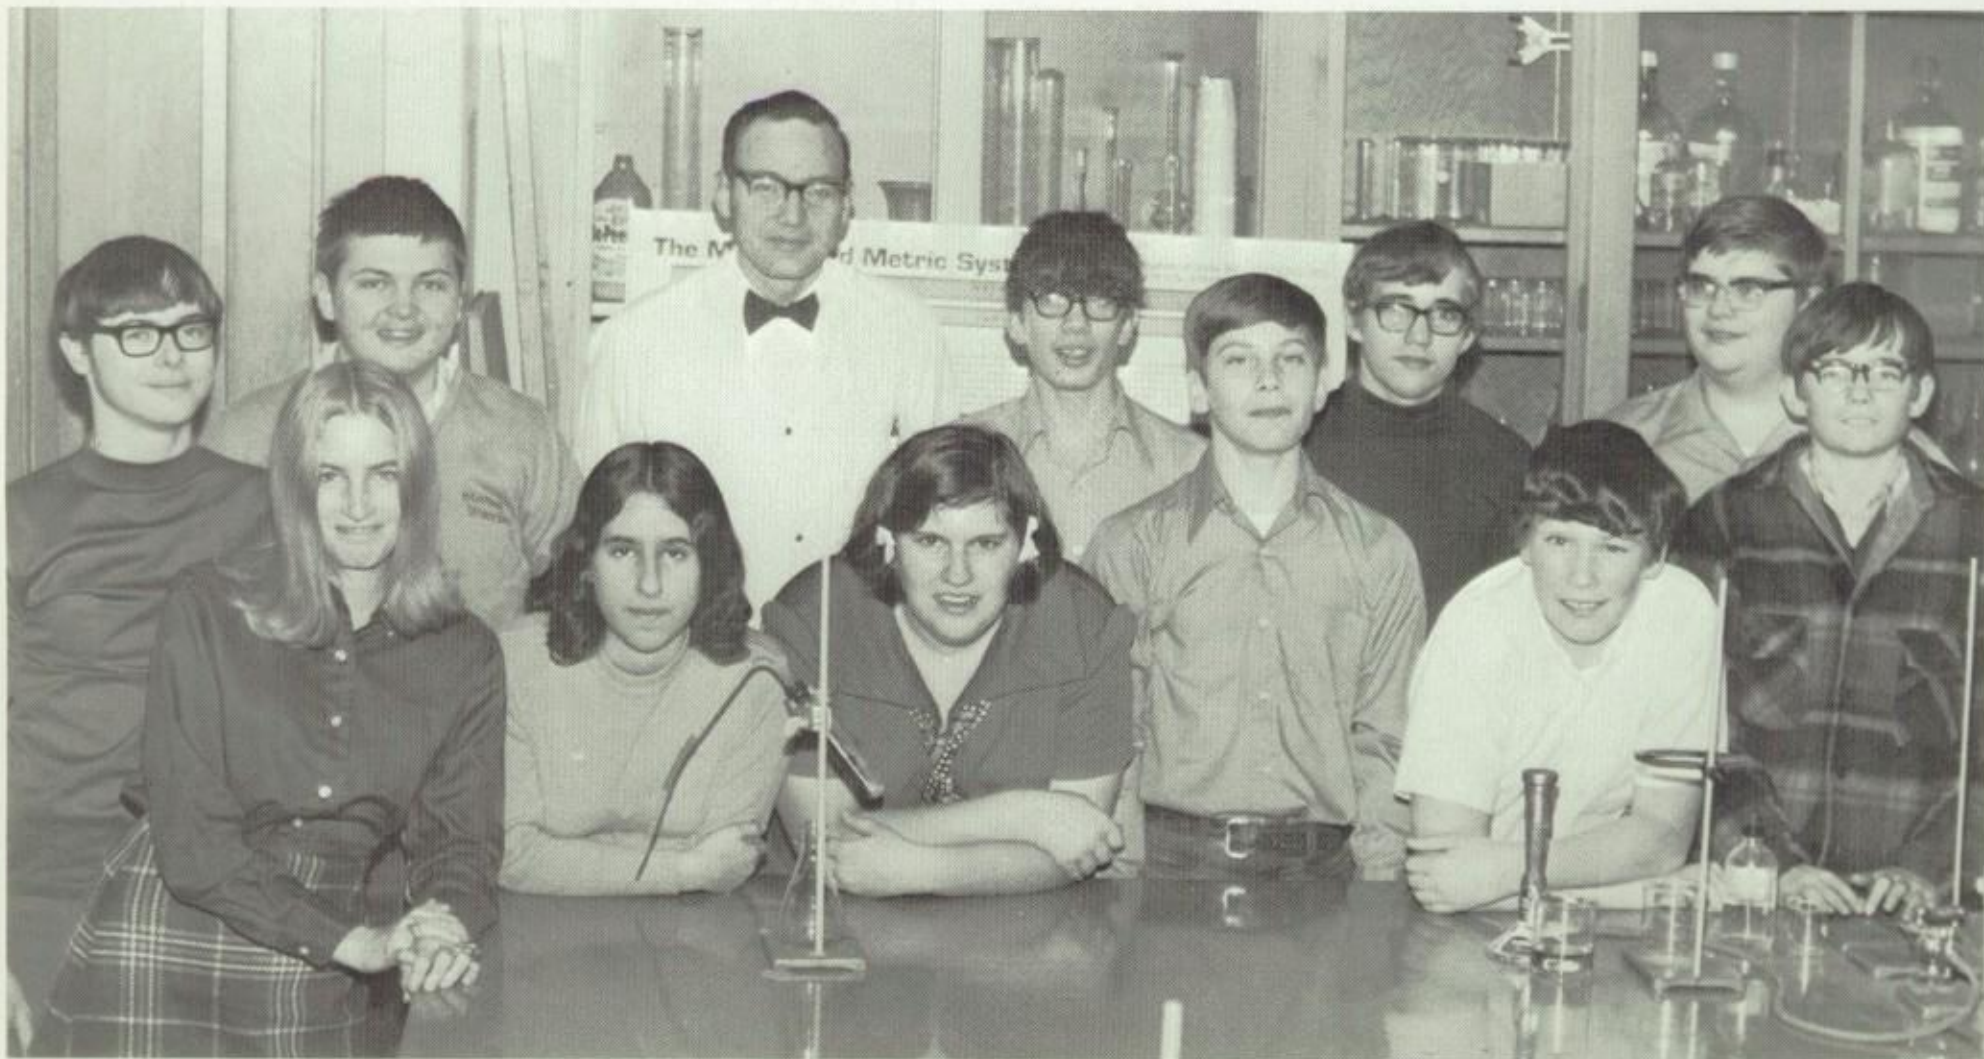

The experiments can be for fun or for the purpose of achievement, as some students enter their projects in competition. Dekalb holds the first showing. The first place winners go to the University of Illinois where the final judging occurs. Winners show that Science Club is an achievement.

The Cooperative Work Training Program is now in existence at the Vocational Center for those students interested in this type of program. Any student at the high school is eligible to become a member of the CWT organization. The class gives students an opportunity to receive some type of a job in the community and to remain in school at the same time, studying other courses as well.

The CWT sponsors a club for those who are studying in the class. The club offers certain advantages for all those with specific needs.

Data Control is studied as a related course, and Cooperative Office Education provides an additional credit. Participating students are members of the Office Education Association through which they take part in local, area, and state activities.

Pep Club Tries to Overcome the Difficulties

Again this year's Pep Club began with a bang. But, once again, by the second basketball game its membership consisted of approximately ten students. Despite the efforts of its officers and advisors, the student interest needed was not there.

The club sponsored two money-making projects, a bake sale and the selling of spirit derbies which were sold prior to Homecoming, proved to be quite popular among the students.

Pep Club met almost every week to decorate the halls of SHS with streamers and posters. In addition, the club attempted to help the cheerleaders put on pep assemblies.

Officers and advisors were Jodie Hay, Betty Miatke, Sue Prew, and John Johnson, Miss Drayer, and Mr. Moore.

Posters that are being made to be put up in the halls, are met with scorn by other Pep club members.

Underclassmen turned out to prepare the school for the next day's activities. Most support for this year's Pep club was shown by the under classmen.

The monitors also help the secretary, nurse and office by running errands. Is this really a wasted studyhall?

GAA Offers New Activities for the Girls and

The Girl's Athletic Association is an important organization to any girl at SHS interested in attaining a stable, spiritual, mental, and physical fitness. The members attain points from attending the regular activities and general meetings, which are needed to receive an award. The GAA sponsors special activities such as Lee Rider Romp, Dad and Daughter and Mom and Daughter Nights, and several gym jams for all the students.

New members were introduced to the organization in the spring of the preceding year at a playday, and as the school session opened, these girls were invited to an orientation night, to familiarize them with the standards and rules. In January the new members were initiated into GAA, and in the spring an awards tea was held for the girls. The GAA is controlled by the GAA Executive Board which lays the groundwork for the organization.

GAA's activities include the popular Gym Jam where girls and boys play volleyball or basketball.

S Club Again Sponsors The Homecoming

SHS's S Club, under new leadership, has had another successful year. After Homer Musgrove's retirement, Keith Bos took over the direction of the group. Frank Lee served as president of S Club this year, John Mosher was vice-president, and Jeff Easley was secretary-treasurer.

S Club had several major activities during the school year. The Homecoming Dance was the group's fall event, co-sponsored with Student Council. Later in the year, the club gave the annual S Club Circus.

Gymnastics Club Members Work for Physical

Gymnastics as defined in the dictionary is "physical exercise performed in a gymnasium. This was very true at Sterling High School. The Gym Club began their work out the end of October. Working one or two nights a week they prepared routines for the half times of the basketball games. Some routines performed were a comedy trampoline, tumbling routine, floor-exercise routine, group apparatus, and an individual apparatus show.

As the school year moved on the Gym Club prepared for their Intra-Squad Meet. This meet was started a year ago and proved to be worthwhile. In this meet the gymnasts performed against their teammates in trampoline, floor exercise, rings, balance beam, side horse, and parallel and uneven bars.

The final event in which the Gym Club performed was the "S" Club Circus. The gymnastics group had one or two people perform on each piece of apparatus in this performance.

Pom Pons Provide Half-Time Entertainment

An exciting asset to the great school spirit this year is the pom pon squad. As the Warrior football season began, the Warriorettes were more than anxious to show their loyalty to the SHS teams, but the rain hindered the first performance of the season.

As the season progressed, so did the ingenuity of the Warriorettes, as they displayed their skill with the pom pons, various formations, and the marches. The Homecoming performance was also rained out for the girls, but there was a show of enthusiasm, as the girls marched in the parade.

As the 70 basketball season got under way, the Warriorettes were an added attraction to the opening home game in their new uniforms. In order to finance the uniforms, the members of the squad sponsored a dance after the Sterling-DeKalb game, from which they profited greatly. The girls have done much to promote the spirit which boosted the teams to victories. The combined effort of all the girls made them successful and the younger girls show much promise for future years.

America's Future Leaders Attend Leadership Activities

This year's DAR award winner was Marcia Kelsey. Marcia was chosen on the basis of the many desirable qualities of a good citizen. These qualities included dependability, honesty, service, leadership, initiative, and Personality.

The DAR Good Citizen Award is sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution. Its purpose is to acknowledge a Senior girl who possesses qualities of a good citizen.

Eight Sterling students participated in the annual State programs, this summer, sponsored by the American Legion. Boys' State was held in Springfield and Girls' State in Jacksonville. The activities of both programs were concerned with local and state government and official elections.

NHS Members Aim for School Improvement

National Honor Society members are chosen not only for their academic achievements, but for their outstanding qualities of leadership, service, and character as well. A 3.25 grade point average is the only requirement a student must have to be eligible for membership. The entire faculty rates these people and the new members are inducted into the Society in early spring or the following fall.

This year's NHS members decided their organization would not function solely for money-making purposes. They instead became interested in the Unit School District Referendum; speakers, both pro and con, came to meetings to express their views. Members also circulated petitions to bring the Unit School District to a vote this year.

The guidance and leadership of a new NHS advisor, Mr. Richard Zion, contributed greatly to the member's involvement of which all were proud.

The new inductees of the National Honor Society do not appear to be as serious as the officers.

Streator—An Awaited Homecoming Win

In a true rebuilding year, the Sterling varsity football team posted a 3—5 record. Head coach Jim Scott had only ten seniors as a nucleus for the 1970 Warriors. Coach Scott will have 36 boys back for the 1971 squad.

Sterling's three victories came over Newman, Rock Falls, and Streator. The local triumphs gave the Warriors the Twin City title for another year. The rain-soaked Streator win was the Blue and Gold's long anticipated homecoming victory. Sterling's top losing effort came against Ottawa.

Sterling averaged 18.8 points per game. The Warriors rushed for 1535 yards or a 191.9 yard average. In the passing department, Sterling had 684 yards for an 86.7 average. The Blue and Gold had a total offense of 2229 yards or 278 yards per game.

Frank Lee was the leading ball carrier in 1970. Lee gained 442 total yards for an average of 6.6 yards per carry. Bernie Mammosser was the top Sterling lineman. Mammosser was named to the All-NCIC first team, and given special mention to the All-State team.

Frosh Football Team Builds an Impressive Record of 7—1

Coaches Keith Bos and DuWayne Dietz directed the 1970 freshman football team to an impressive 7—1 season. These boys offer bright hopes for a third frosh-soph NCIC champ in 1971.

Quarterback Kim Deets proved to be an excellent offensive leader. He consistently mixed good handoffs and good passes to move the young offense. Running power was provided by Mike Stockwell, Jeff Sellars, Victor Reyes, and Pat Wietlespach. Defensively, Jim Czuprynski, Greg Yemm, Kurt Deets, Tom Weaver, Bob Fagan, Ernie Smith, Don Ziegler, Stan Gaffey, Scott Marsh, and Larry Merrill were outstanding.

Useful football formations are carefully explained by Coach Bos and then used to win their games.

Never-ending practices prove to be worthwhile.

The 70-71 varsity wrestling team had a truly outstanding season. Compiling the second best record of all Sterling Wrestling Teams under Coach Carson DeJarnatt, the boys on this year's squad won 21 meets while only losing two to Rock Island and DeKalb and having only 1 tie with Rochelle. Under the leadership of co-captains Jon Zemke and Jeff Easley the Warrior wrestlers captured 2nd place in two tournaments at Granite

City and at the IHSA District meet at Sterling in addition to winning the championships of the NCIC meet and the IHSA Sectional Meet. Zemke and Easley both won their respective individual championships at all four of these tournaments. Jon Zemke set a school mark in compiling a career record of 144 wins, 17 losses, and 1 tie. Jeff Easley placed 5th at State to cap off the team's fine season.

JV Matmen Boast Record of 11 Wins and 1 Loss

Boasting a record of 11 wins and 1 loss, this year's Junior Varsity wrestling team had a fine season. Coach Jim Scott was very pleased with the JV boys as they lost only to a tough Moline team.

Also under Coach Scott was the Frosh-Soph team. The freshmen and Sophomores who will join this year's juniors to make up the nucleus of next year's varsity had a seasonal record of 8 wins and 2 losses in dual meet competition. The Frosh-Soph team also won the NCIC meet and had five conference champs: Paul Cooperrider, Gail Seloover, Scott Sonoc, Moses Garcia and Roger Pratt.

Coaches DeJarnatt, Scott and other squad members anxiously watch a match with a Savanna matman.

However, the highlight of the season was when the freshmen won the 1st Sterling Freshman Invitational under Coach Lee Johnson. Individual champions for Sterling were: John Jiminez, Ron Hulteen, Rick Cuevas, Bob Dexter, and Tim Kilday. SHS can look forward to many good things from these boys.

Coach Gene Hall's Warriors Experience Trying Season

Coach Gene Hall's Golden Warriors finished sixth in the NCIC with a 5-6 record and had a 10-11 regular season mark for the 1970-71 basketball year. The Blue and Gold played well early in the season, slumped badly after Christmas, then regained good form to peak at the opening of the Regional.

Senior co-captains Frank Lee and Gordy Fortney both received numerous honors for their outstanding play. Lee was chosen as the most valuable Twin City player, and Fortney was selected to the All-NCIC first team.

Seniors Dan Fitzgerald, Larry Frye, and Dave Frommelt all saw much action this year. The top juniors were Greg Schott, Gary Helms, and John Moloney. Sophomore Kim Harper was the youngest Sterling regular. Other Warriors were Jeff Johnson, Arnold Chattic, Larry Kirkland, John Eades, Max Gaumer, Dale Book, and Mark Sedig. Del Carr was the assistant varsity coach.

Braves Shoot for a Season Of 14 Wins and 5 Losses

The Sterling Braves, although lacking in height against opponents, had an outstanding season record of 14-5. Coach Jim McKinzie's frosh-soph placed second in the NCIC with a 9-2 mark.

Mel Leseman was Sterling's leading scorer while John Windham took the rebound honors. As a team, the Braves averaged 60 points per game, and their opponents averaged 49 points per game.

Loren Mears, Bill James, Windham, Leseman, and Louis Sedig were regular starters for Sterling. Kent Fisher and Steiner saw much action as leading substitutes. Sixteen boys saw action with two freshmen back next season.

Freshman Basketball Team Has a Good Season

The Sterling freshman basketball team had a fine 9—3 season. Coach Glen James squad lost only to an unusually strong Rock Falls team twice and to Ottawa. The freshman B team finished with a 11—0 record. With a large number of boys, Coach James put together two intramural squads giving some freshman added playing experience.

Bill Astary and Mike Stockwell were the top freshmen and both saw frosh-soph action. Stan Gaffey, Tim Weaver, Kim Deets, Jim Czyprynski, Greg Yemm, and Ernie Smith were all regulars.

Winter Recreation Provided by Intramural B-Ball Games

The intramural basketball program again provided SHS boys with winter recreational activity. Under the guidance of John Neahring, intramurals have both Frosh-Soph and Junior-Senior divisions. In the Frosh-Soph division players choose their own teams. In the Junior-Senior division, two captains per team draft players into a team.

Each division has two leagues, and a tournament is held on the Junior-Senior level at the end of the season. Junior-Senior All-Stars play against the faculty in the "S" Club Circus.

Boys' Intramural Basketball proves to be a rewarding pastime as well as a nail biting experience.

A jump ball is the start of an exciting game. Intramural players enjoy fast action games.

Four intramural players join for a sure shot.

There seems to be a lot of action in this game, but no one is sure of the ball's whereabouts.

Hard Work and Determination Results in a Winning Season

The Varsity Track Team had an outstanding season. Losing only one dual meet, the Warriors won several large invitational meets in Sterling, Kewanee, Crystal Lake, and Geneseo. This season extended the record of all varsity track teams under Coach DuWayne Dietz's guidance to 123 victories and six defeats in dual meet competition. The Varsity Team also furthered their record in NCIC Conference track competition by winning the conference meet for the 29th time in the 40-year history of the NCIC. The 1970 season also saw the records in the pole vault and shot put broken.

Record in '70

The 1970 Frosh-Soph Track Team finished their season with an outstanding record. The tri-captains of the 1970 sophomore squad led the team to an unblemished dual meet season, defeating all of their opponents by at least 50 points. Not to be outdone by their elder counterparts the sophomores also scored well in the NCIC conference meet, finishing second. Coach DuWayne Dietz indicated that he was especially pleased by the performance of the sophomores and freshmen, and is confident that they will form a very strong team in 1971.

Four Boys from Varsity Tennis Team See State

Coach Gene Hall's varsity tennis team had a tremendous 1970 season. Without one senior on the squad, the Sterling netmen still had a 13-4 dual meet record. The Warriors finished first in the Freeport Quadrangular, first in the District Meet, and third in the Ottawa Invitational.

Four Sterling netmen qualified for the 1970 State Tennis Meet. Bill James and Steve Dickinson competed in singles, and Gary Helms and Larry Frye saw doubles action. These four combined with a host of promising teammates offer more good tennis years.

District Efforts Qualify Wilkins for State

Coach Robert Barragree's varsity golf team finished with a 7-7 dual meet mark in 1970. The junior varsity had a 9-3 dual meet record, and the Braves were 2-1 in dual competition.

Six different boys saw varsity action last season. Al Killion, Jim Olson, Roger Wilkins, Jack Dombroski, Gary Taylor, and Dave Bates were the most consistent Warrior golfers.

In tournament action, the varsity had four outings. Sterling placed sixth in the LaSalle-Peru Tournament, second in the District Meet, fourth in the NCIC Meet, and third in the annual Twin City Golf Meet.

Among the highlights of the 1970 season was Roger Wilkins fantastic effort in the District Meet. Wilkins shot a 74 to win medalist honors and a berth in the state tournament.

Bates, varsity letter winner, attempts a birdie.

New Coach Leads Varsity Baseball Team To

The Sterling varsity baseball team under the leadership of coaches Glen James and Lee Johnson compiled a 10—5 record in 1970. Coach Gordy Nunemaker directed the Braves to a 6—5 season. This was Coach James' first year as head varsity baseball coach.

Captain Bob Marruffo, Frank Lee, Mark Woodring, and George Bizak were the Warriors top hitters. Steve Wolfe, Ken Massey, and Woodring were the main pitchers for the Sterling staff.

Ken Massey was voted Most Valuable Player for 1970, and Randy Roeing was given the Hustle Award. Other varsity letter winners were Bill Deem, Shane Stonesifer, Loren Mears, Greg Schott, Jim Ryan, and Arnold Chattic.

The 1971 Warriors promise to have another good season. With nine players returning, Coach James has a fine nucleus for the upcoming season.

Captain Bill Fullmer, Jim Hand, Randy Elmaker, and Bill Bromley were the top frosh-soph performers. Hand was the winningest pitcher for the Braves. Bromley finished with the highest batting average.

SHS Teams Given Enthusiastic Support by

The cheering season began early for both the varsity and sophomore cheerleading squads. The girls began getting into practice during the summer with regular practice sessions and by attending a special cheerleading camp at Lake Geneva. With the first game, the squads were ready to lead the fans with new cheers.

Under the guidance of a new advisor, Mrs. Nunemaker, the girls added new stunt and tumbling routines to their cheering. The cheerleaders were an important asset to crowd spirit during football and basketball season.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Juniors Discover Unity a Goal to Success

Once again the class of '72 has proven its leadership, as the juniors began the year by forming a Junior Executive Council. Under the guidance of Marv Lofgren, the class planned a prom which proved to be successful.

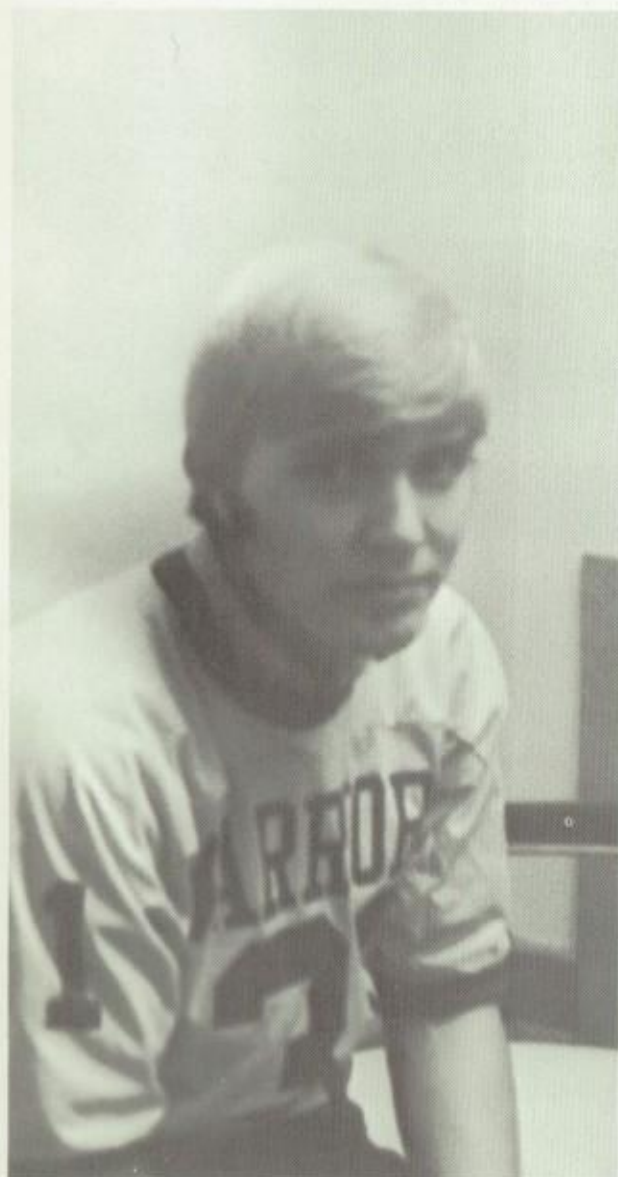

As the year progressed, so did the ingenuity of the juniors, as they prepared a float that drew first place in originality and a second in beauty.

The class sold sweaters with a Warrior insignia on them, both to raise money for prom and to boost the school spirit. The juniors also sponsored a dance after the Rock Falls game which proved to be more than good for the profit involved.

As the juniors look back at the experiences of their past years at SHS, they should realize that the last year is right before them, and they will try to make the most of it, both academically and socially. Taking part in the roll as an upperclassman has now become a reality to the junior class, and leaders of the school will emerge from this class in the year to come—a class never to be forgotten.

Junior Class Officers for 1970-71 are: Larry Kirkland, John Maloney, Debbie Dietz and Jill Joseph.

Curt Turnroth sits silently in a pensive mood.

Sophomores Develop New, Strong Confidence

Confidence was the class of '73 being able to walk the halls of SHS knowing they were no longer at the bottom of the ladder. Past is the in-between year when the sophomores were classified as not at the bottom but not yet upperclassmen.

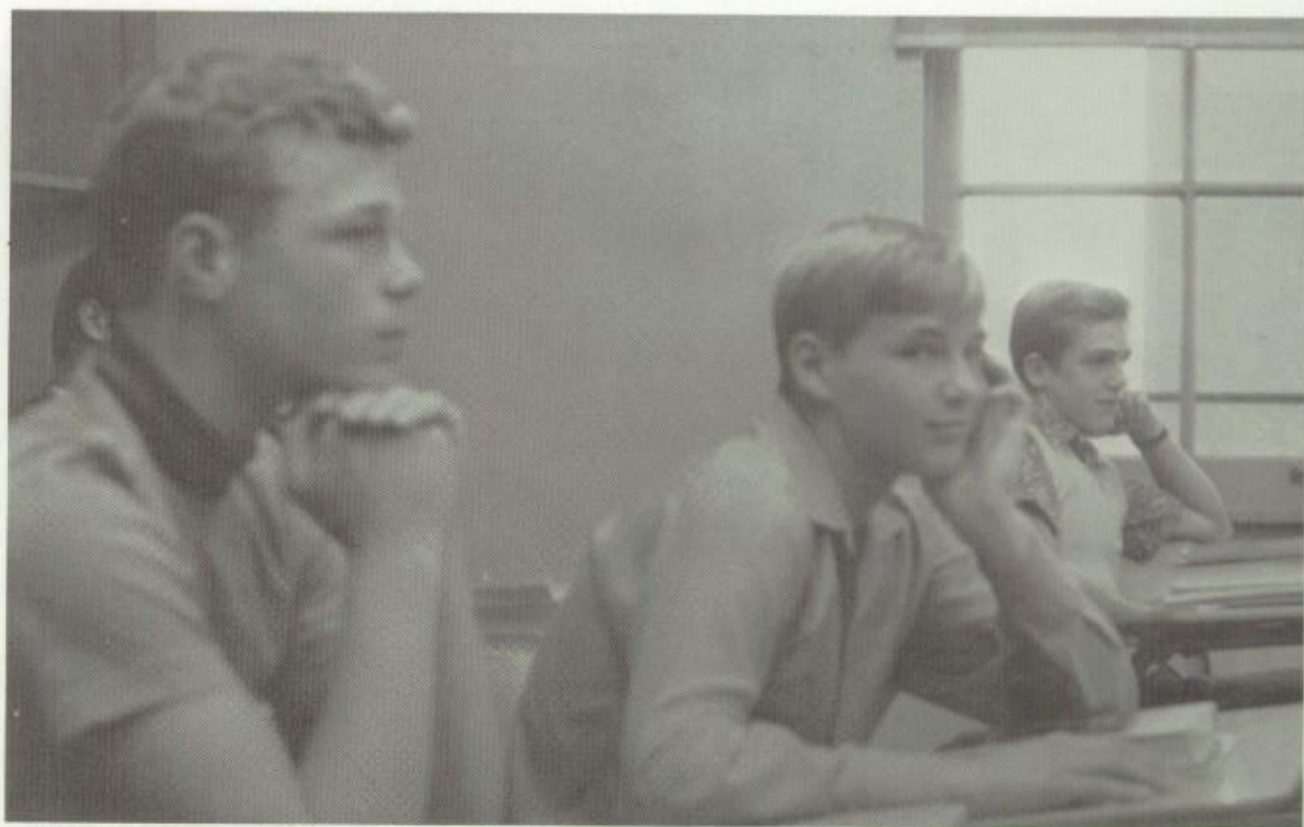

Along with this year came drivers education classes and the anxious waiting for the out-of-class achievement "Behind the Wheel."

The homecoming parade arrived and the sophomores were ready with their colorful float "You Can't Catch Me I'm a Warrior Man," which placed second in the humor category.

As the year progressed the sophomore class sponsored a Valentine's Dance. This was one of the first of many money-making projects planned to pay for their Junior-Senior Prom.

Finally the decisions of class rings arose. Choosing these important rings was one of the final steps taken by members of the sophomore class.

Events of the year helped prepare the in-between sophomores for their following year as upperclassmen.

The WARRIOR camera catches the eye of Terry Glenn as his mind wanders from classroom proceedings.

Sue Stanaway's face wears a meditative look.

New Explorations Gain Results for Freshmen

This year's freshmen officially initiated themselves into the swing of high school by the presentation of a float in the homecoming parade which captured third place in the category of originality. This freshman class and their newly elected officers revealed that their class would act as if they were more than new freshmen.

The newly elected student council members weren't satisfied to sit and be quiet. They began to voice their own opinions about school situations.

The somewhat tedious orientation and the tour of the school benefited some, but experience proved to be the best teacher for the majority. Zany antics of the upperclassmen were revealed and learned.

New classmates with friendships were discovered. The teachers studied their students while the student studied the teachers. The different activities were explored and chosen.

This year's freshmen used their larger size to build more spirit, to make them worthy of the name Braves, and to build a strong class of 1974. They contributed greatly to the school and to themselves.

The Freshman Class officers are: Linda Appenzellar, JoAnn Kosier, Susan Juarez and Marcia Rahn.

Group discussions—time to ponder one's thoughts.

Underclassmen Become Accustomed to Daily

A Sophomore amazed at steady stream of traffic.

Conversation and clowning around with friends usually helps pass long, boring hours in Room 180.

Juniors attempt to play a game of aerial darts.

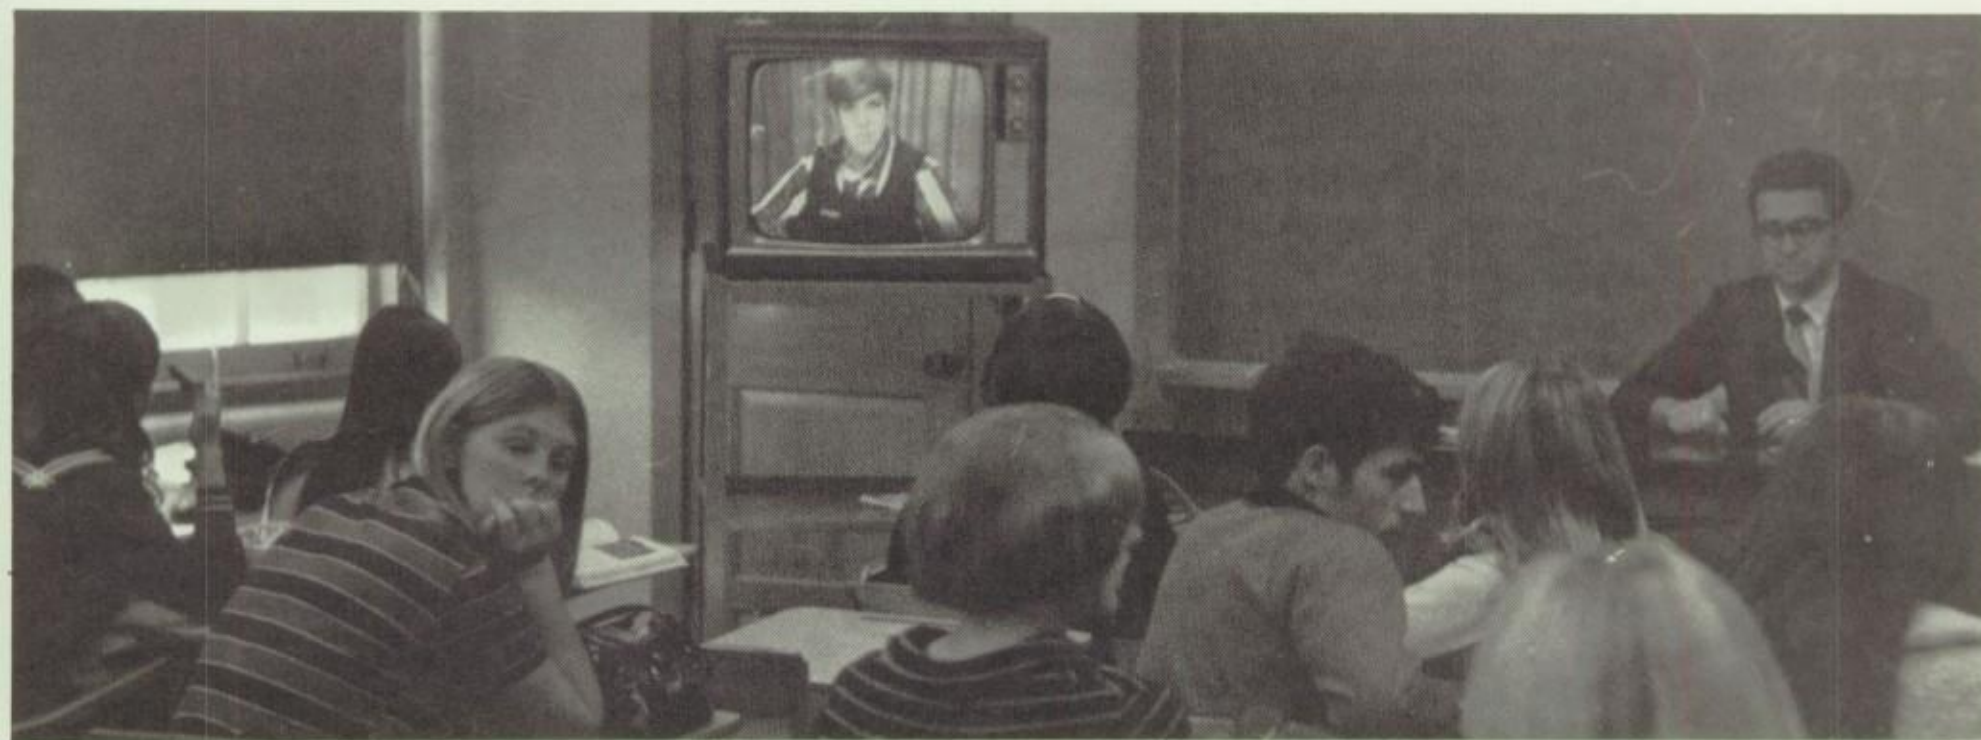

Habits of SHS

A typical pastime for the open study hall.

Freshman girls soon realize the evils of Canteen food and revert to good homemade sack lunches.

Why don't they promote that guy to director so they can get him off the screen . . . or . . . homeroom seems more like a rerun everyday!

We have no idea what these intelligent, bright, young Sophomores are doing; can you figure it out?

Underclassmen Participate in Many Activities

Mark Wentsel debates whether to go in or split.

Wicked Carole smashes helpless pingpong ball.

Basketball is an integral part of freshman P.E.

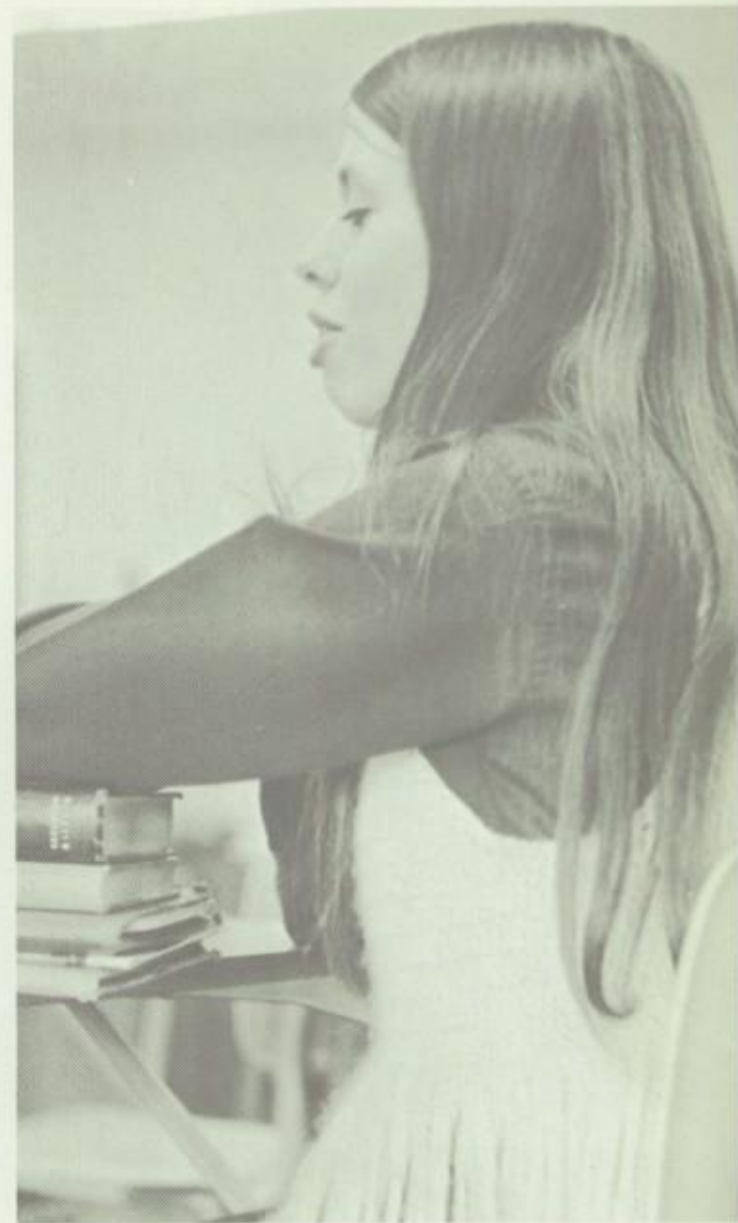

Students are forced to remain in their classrooms despite lack of a furnace to heat the school.

Pi over an orange slice squared equals????

Underclassmen learn new songs in GAA as well as how to be good sports in their activities.

Val Wascher takes 40 winks before continuing.

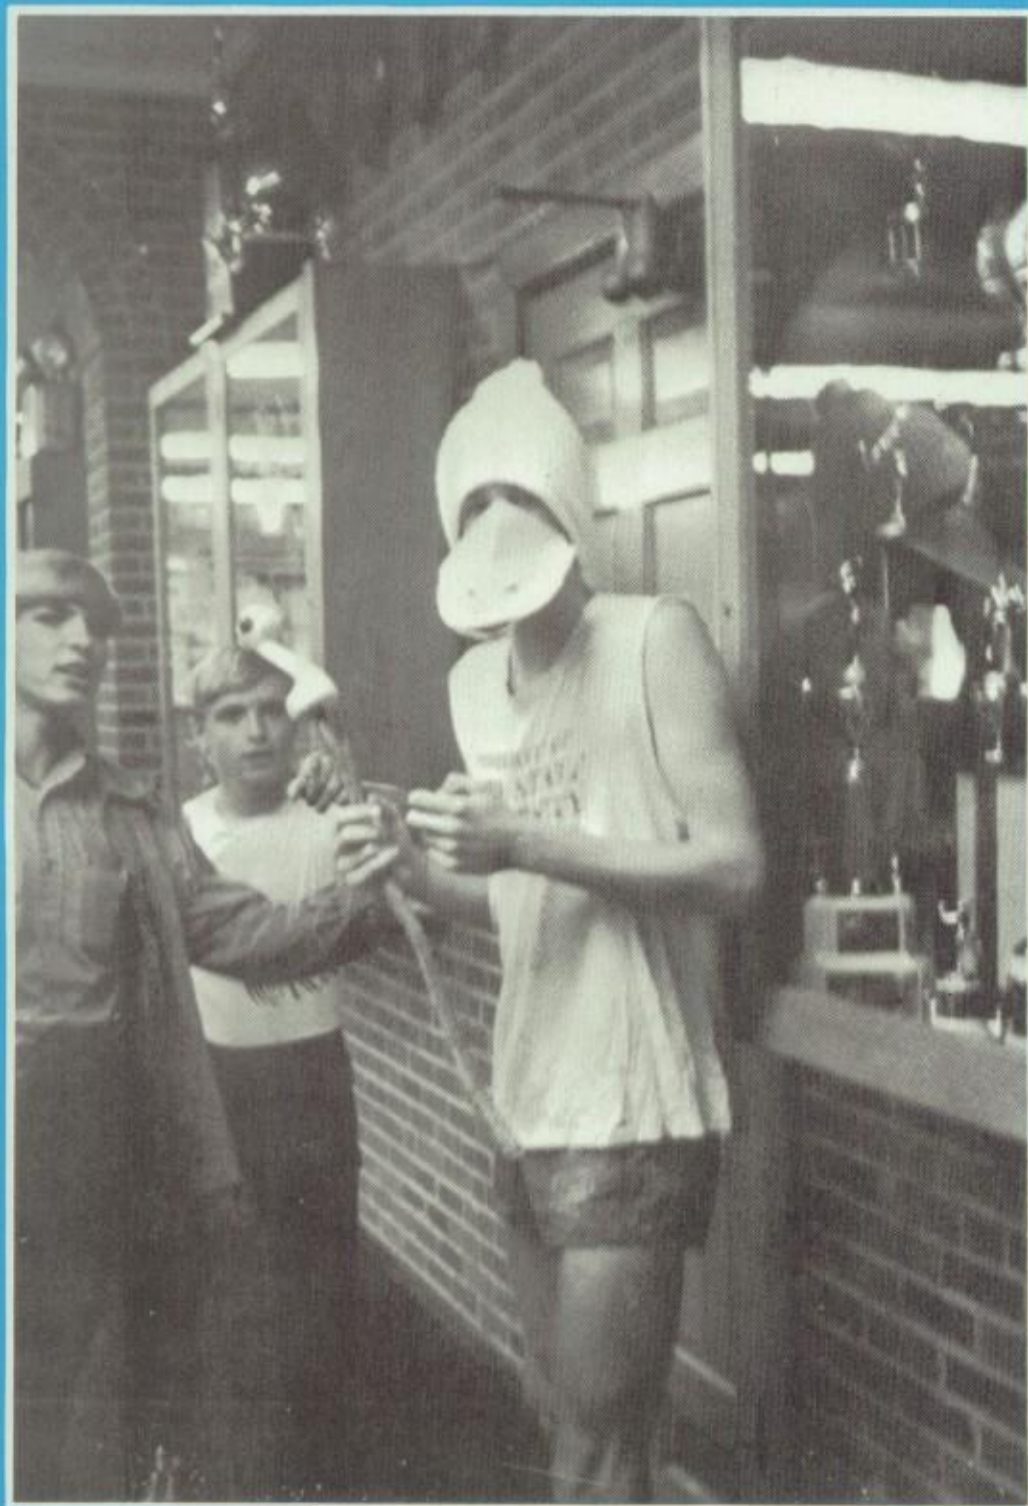

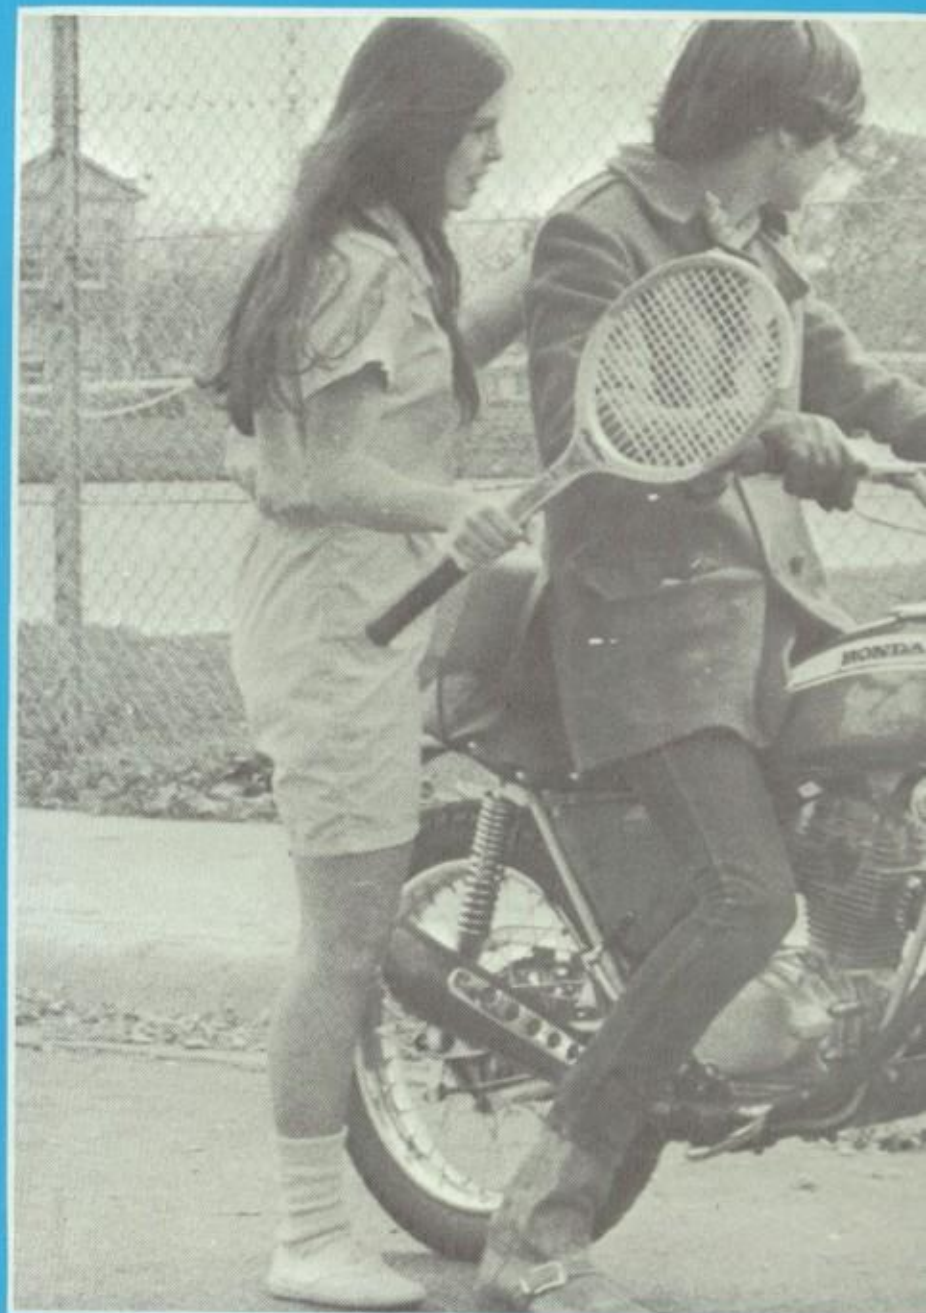

But Mrs. Griesser, Kaiser is my German tutor.

Dear Ann Landers: How do you tell the girl you love that . . .

SENIORS

Kilgour, anyone?!

Senior Status Is Achieved by Determination

Since we have finally ended our last year of high school, we can look at the road that once seemed endless. The new road that we now face seems even more challenging. Our past experiences will have influence on us as we try to head towards new goals while pondering our high school years.

As freshmen, the road was an adventure. The excitement of becoming a part of the high school was only the beginning. Class officers were chosen and we began to venture down the road.

Our second stretch of the road led to money making projects so we could sponsor the annual Valentine's Dance. Progress did end in summer as more projects brought more workers.

Workers made a homecoming float that claimed two places. Spring came with a prom that was to be remembered. After prom, the final stretch of road now came into view. We were Seniors.

"Majority 71" became our theme. We finished our last stretch as one. As seniors, the class united.

Majority "71" demonstrates their new spirit at Homecoming by forming their class numeral for all.

Senior class officers are: Treasurer, Dixie Aggen; Vice-President, Sue Helms; Secretary, Janet Bend; and President, Jeff Johnson.

ACADEMICS

Madrigals, Stage Band Offer Entertainment

Stage Band is the jazz ensemble for the band. The Stage Band performs with the concert band or alone if they are requested. This provides a change from the classical music. Instruments used for stage are provided from three sections: Woodwinds provides the saxophones, brass supplies the trumpets and trombones, while the piano, drums, and bass keep the rhythm intact. Stage band combines their talents for our enjoyment.

Five people from each of the four vocal sections form Madrigals. This group performs for different clubs in the area. Most extra performances are around Christmas. Donations that are given to the Madrigals are put into the choir's treasury. The money is used for future concerts. Early practices, late lunches, and evenings of performances constitute the Madrigals schedule. No wonder these students are given special recognition.

Freshman and Mixed Chorus Bring Musical

The SHS Choral Department, made up of Robed Choir, Mixed Chorus, Freshman Girl's Chorus, and the Madrigal Group, again presented several excellent performances to the student body and public. The Madrigals appeared at various community functions and activities throughout the year. The other three groups once again prepared their annual concerts. The Robed Choir sang four successful concerts including the Fall Musicale and an annual Christmas, Easter, and Spring concert. Mixed Chorus and the Freshman Chorus presented a Christmas concert at the Junior High, an Annual Underclassmen Concert, and participated in the Fall Musicale.

All in all, the year was a successful one for the choral department under the direction of Mr. Johnson.

Throughout the year the band or sections of it participated in over fifty performances. Some of these performances included football games, parades, pep assemblies, local concerts, the NCIC Music Festival, All-District and All-State festivals.

Three weeks after coming off the marching field the concert and stage band performed at their annual Fall concert. With basketball season, pep band prepared for the halftime shows. Also in the fall selected individual students participated in the NCIC All-District and All-State Festivals.

In addition to presenting the annual fall, winter, and spring concerts, the band introduced their first Concerto Concert, in which soloists played accompanied by the band.

Television Production Involves Hard Work

This year's TV Production class has improved through a new emphasis on both informing and entertaining their audience. The students have created their own special programs on patriotism, drugs, and safe driving. They have also perked up the routine daily announcements by trying to amuse their audience. The student announcers deliberately carry on humorous conversations, make silly mistakes, and just generally entertain.

In another effort to break the monotony the students have presented such specials as the Pumpkin Race, the combined Christmas and Chanukak Show, the Little Women Special and Freshman Talent Day. This type of ingenuity has made the daily announcements something to be enjoyed.

Financial Problems Were Faced by Board and

The Sterling High School Board of Education acts as the governing body for our entire school district. These seven elected board members meet monthly with the administration to discuss new ideas as well as old business. Therefore much of the school's progress is due to the work and help of the Board of Education and the administration.

This past year, the board was faced with problems of instability. Set back by the defeat of the school referendum and the unit district, the board spent many hours searching for a solution to the problem. Aids in scheduling, changes in the student dress code were considered to help the school. Many of these projects have proven very successful and useful to the entire student body.

Together the board, the administration, and the faculty have worked to provide the best possible programs for SHS. This year has been no exception. Each board member, dedicated to work with the school and its officials, has certainly worked to produce a school system to benefit all the students of the Sterling Township High School area.

Reviewing deliberate board policies, Superintendent Sutter studies possible educational changes.

English Department Offers Varied Courses

English, the American language, is very important at Sterling High School. During the students' freshman, sophomore, and junior years of high school basic English fundamentals are stressed. Students work on sentence structure, grammar, comprehensive reading and various types of writing. When students become seniors the English department allows for elective courses. This wider range of courses included English readings, expository writing, English literature, contemporary literature, journalism, and a public speaking course.

Throughout the year teachers worked along with students to improve language skills and further knowledge of literature.

Social Studies Department Offers Divergent Programs

The Social Studies department has once again offered study programs with much integrity and grace, to the students, as to keep the student's interest in what they study. Since there were no U.S. history courses offered this year for honor students, the instructors have devised more team teaching programs than have been in effect in previous years.

With the team programs for the various history courses offered, the students are given the opportunity to receive lectures and information from the various instructors, and to apply this knowledge to, and benefit from the classroom discussions. Also the teachers have instilled projects into the routine sessions, so the students better understand the courses.

Math Department Strives for Educational Improvements

Constant improvement is the goal of the Mathematics Department. Courses ranging from elementary to advanced are offered providing a class suited to the needs of each student. Occupation minded students may choose courses in General Math, Technical Math, or Business Math. More advanced classes in algebra, analytical geometry, and calculus provide an excellent foundation for the college bound students of SHS.

The teachers are also striving for improvement. They are available for extra help outside class, and some try to make their class special through a sprinkling of humor. Overall the Math curriculum at Sterling High School is a comprehensive one taught by qualified instructors.

Varied Courses Offered By Science Teachers

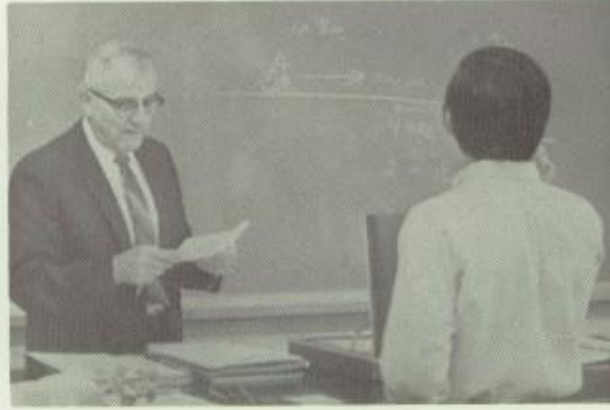

The science department of SHS once again offered a curriculum that presented a variety of choices for students. A basic course was offered to those students not choosing science as their future career. Students planning on entering a field of science after high school were offered a general four year program. This program succeeded on preparing the students for most types of college science. Sauk Valley College cooperated with SHS by allowing Seniors, who had three years of high school science, to take science courses there.

Updated books and lab manuals were given to the physics, chemistry, and biology classes; Thus keeping the department well equipped for the students of SHS.

Learning to Communicate in a New Language Takes Effort

The foreign language department at Sterling High School is a very involved organization. The four languages included in the department's program are French, German, Latin, and Spanish.

The foreign language lab is a great asset to the department. Here, students can receive individual help through the aid of tape-playing equipment.

The classroom aids consist of films, tapes, movies, and maps, as well as the numerous textbooks. Outside, the classroom club meetings are held once a month.

A new program, just recently added to the department's curriculum, involves a type of studies abroad program, where groups of students and their advisors travel abroad.

Teachers Aid in Extra-Curricular Coaching

Coaching girls on the balance beam for gymnastics is only a part of Mrs. Nunemaker's busy day.

Exercises!! When one thinks of P.E., the first thing that pops into his mind is a series of exercises—leg lifts, jumping jacks, push-ups, etc. P.E., however, is more than calisthenics. P.E. is learning the rules to many confusing sports, breaking a pair of glasses or even an ankle, and taking a refreshing shower after a strenuous class. But P.E. is also fun and provides competition in sports for all students on a small scale.

The teachers of Physical Education must be especially recognized because, as a group, they are one of the most active at SHS. After spending their entire day teaching P.E. classes, these teachers use much of their "free" time for coaching extra-curricular student sports.

Students Learn More Varied, Useful Skills

Students gained valuable ideas in Home Ec, Industrial Arts, and Business Education.

The Home Ec department prepared girls for future years in courses such as money management, clothing and food abilities, and self and home training. Industrial Arts department strove to develop in their students an active interest in industrial life and in the methods and problems of production and exchange. Business education classes gained valuable experience actually working in offices as well as learning basic skills in their classes.

Fine Art Provided Students with Learning Opportunities

Several opportunities were given to students this year in the fields of music and art. The marching band displayed much skill as the students, directed by Jack Schuler, performed on several occasions. The stage band offered entertainment and the pep band aroused the spirit of the students.

The students were given a chance to improve artistic skills, as several art courses were offered. The library offered sources for reference and a desirable place for those who wanted to study. Special commendation is given to Vella Fadden who is retiring.

Counselors Help With Scheduling Problems

The counseling staff at SHS aided many students who sought help in scheduling, future plans, or personal problems. The counselors are a well-trained group of individuals interested in assisting the student body. Seniors were offered advice about their plans following high school graduation. Guidance counseling classes were offered to interested students.

For the first time, guidance classes were offered on an elective basis for those students who felt a need for counseling. Lower classmen were also offered advice on scheduling for the approaching school year. All in all, the counseling staff at SHS is a busy organization interested in providing answers for many of today's arising problems.

A Vocation Heads Skillfully Train Students

The Sterling Vocational Department is a rather recent addition to the curriculum at STHS. The White-side Area Vocational Building holds classes involving SHS and numerous surrounding high schools as well as adult education programs.

The primary objective of the vocational department is to provide instruction and training for students who will be seeking employment in one of the many vocational fields. The department deals with cooperation between area schools and business establishments in the community. Students are furnished with part-time employment during school hours. Conferences, workshops, and lectures are attended by many individual vocational groups to aid in their instruction.

The vocational department provides excellent opportunities for career-minded students. Training programs range from shop work to medical preparation to computer programming. Students are guided into a suitable program, trained in that field, and given the necessary experience.

Secretaries Keep School Running Smoothly

Secretaries have an important role at SHS. Not only do these ladies type letters and keep records of business transactions, but they are also the ones who manage to have examinations neatly typed for testing days. In the attendance office, it is also these secretaries' jobs to cope with those students who have been absent from school or dismissed from class.

The janitors and cleaning ladies also have much to do with keeping our school running smoothly. It is these people that clean the hallways and study halls of trash that students constantly leave behind. Most maintenance work, including jammed lockers and heating problems, is taken care of by the janitors. All this work is greatly appreciated by SHS students.

Caroling to every available listener, the Spanish Club serenades Mrs. Player and Mrs. Bellini.

See Lois Schwieman and Bette Friedlein work.

FRONT ROW: May Burch, Pat Bellini, Virginia Wolfe, Lois Slick. ROW 2: Jackie Robinson,

Jan Player, Donna Nelson, Virginia Mathews, Dorothy Miller, Sue Blackhawk, Judy Jenkins, Jean Sibila, Betty Cushman, Carolyn Dugan.

Custodial Staffs Maintain the Halls and Classrooms

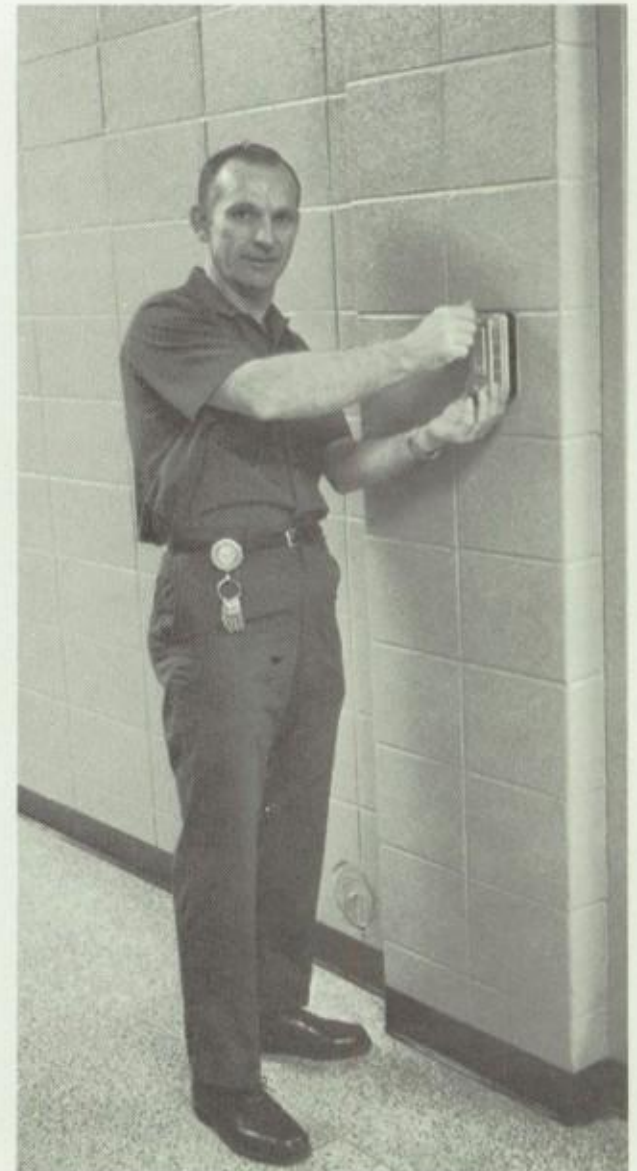

FRONT ROW: Clifford Hill, Edgar Ricklefs,
ROW 2: Gail Bradley, Paul Shuman.

BOTTOM TO TOP: Yvonne Pierce, Vera Fritz, Jeannette Johnson, Leora Reed, Doris Stern.

Both William Ricedorf and Oris Bradshaw solve the trash problem at SHS.

Perry Maple, Director of Maintenance.

The kaleidoscope changes

Its transformation is gradual, indistinct.

One by one

Pieces break from the pattern

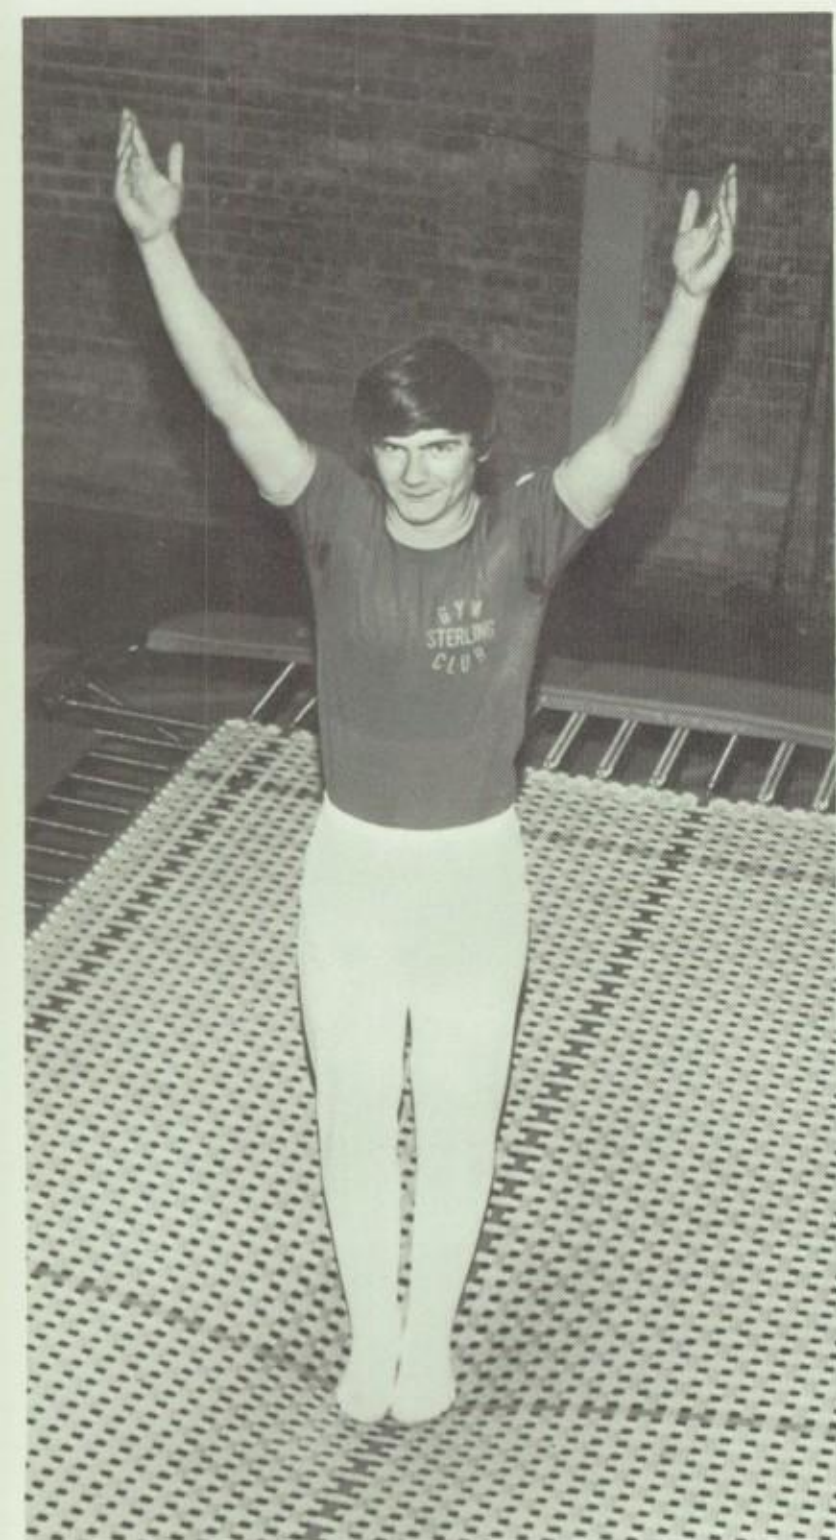

Finally there remain only a few staggering fragments.

Then comes the last performance,

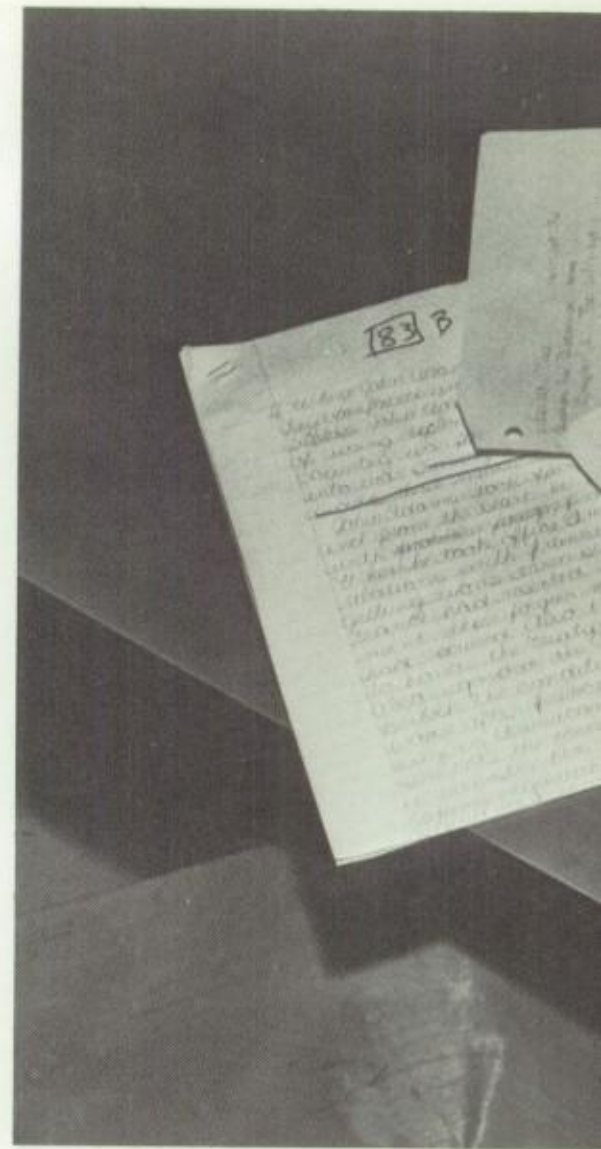

The last game,

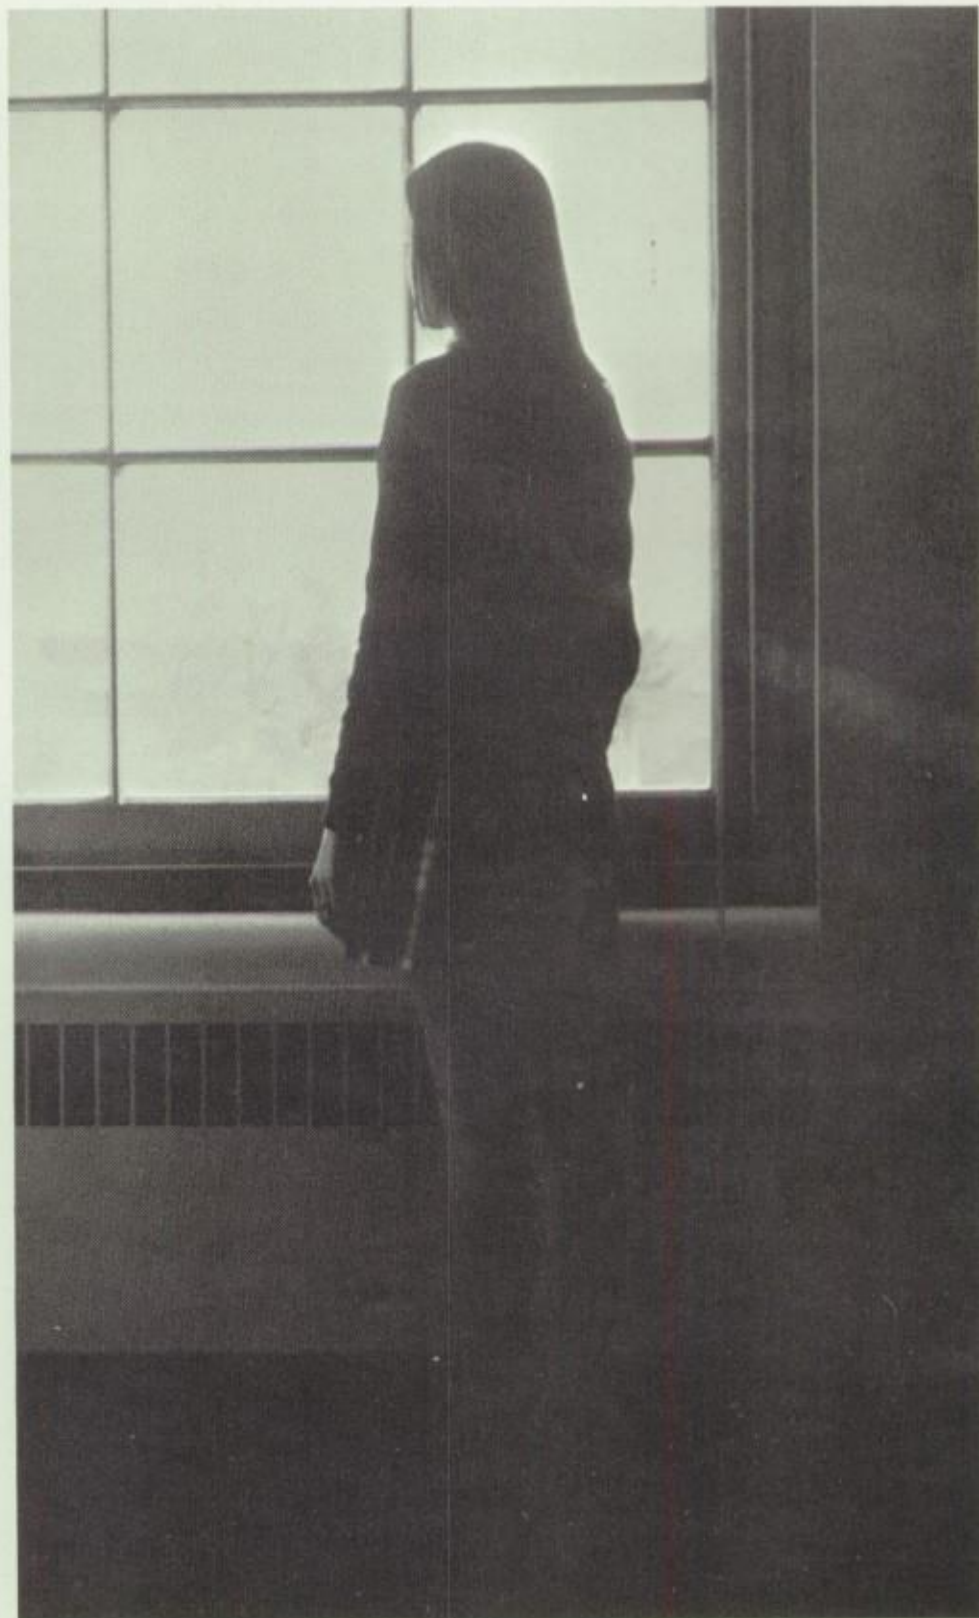

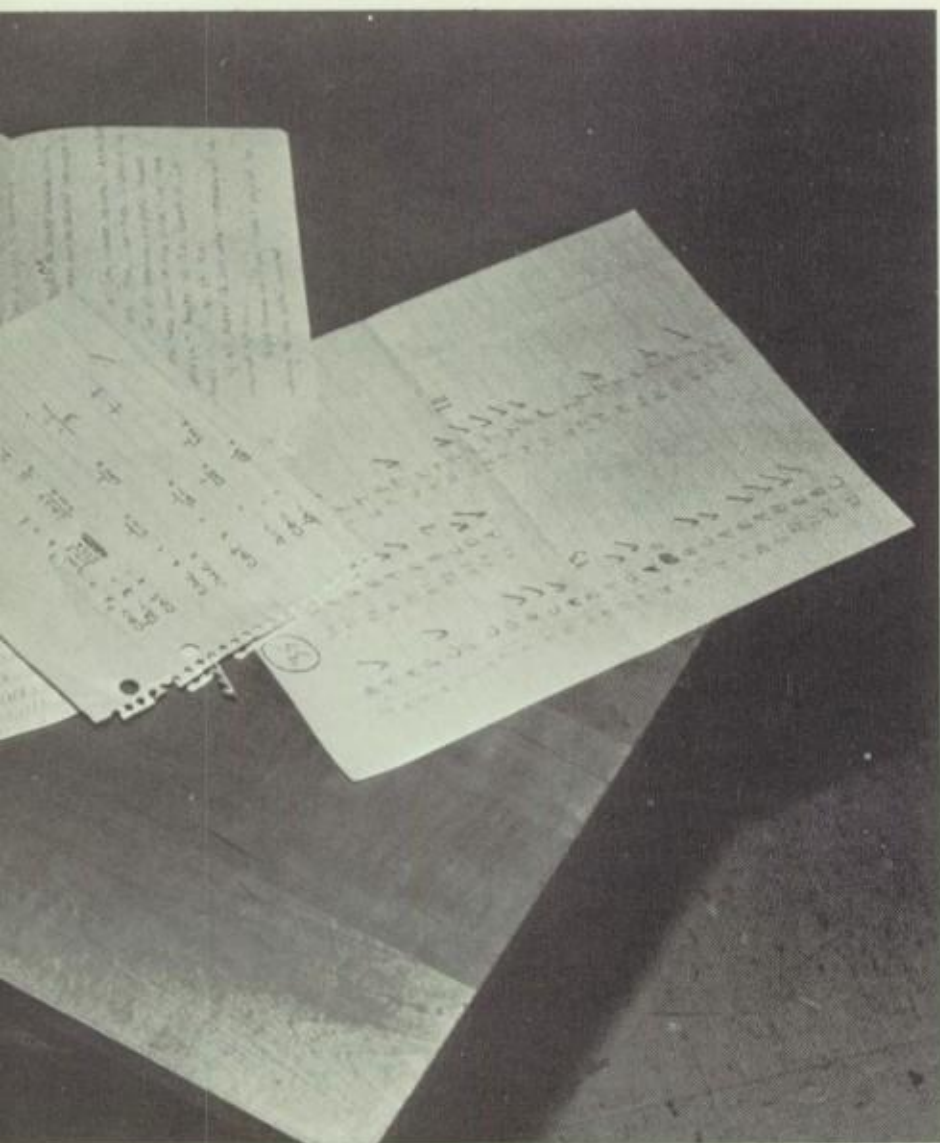

The last test,

And the original kaleidoscope is diminished.

The original kaleidoscope is gone
But each fragment will soon be a part
Of a new, variegated pattern.
Each will be different
But will contain parts of the Original
Never-to-be-forgotten
SHS Kaleidoscope

This space is reserved for us to tie up loose ends of the '71 WARRIOR. The book has meant much to all of us this year as well as being time-consuming, fun, frustrating, and rewarding. Now we hope that the yearbook can become meaningful to you. We hope that the history covered will allow you to remember, next year and many years later, certain meaningful moments of the 1970-71 school year at Sterling Township High School.

We'd like you all to take a second, closer look at our cover. It is in keeping with our theme, Kaleidoscope, and also the more general symbol of our school, the Warrior. The pattern represents several Warriors in traditional headdress and warpaint. Special credit goes to Karen Albert, Class of 1971, who designed the cover specially for our use.

The 1970 WARRIOR editors would like to thank you, the student body, for your cooperation in making the yearbook possible. We would also like to thank the Sterling Township High School Faculty and Administration for their help and encouragement, Persona Studios for taking care of our pictures, The Sterling Daily Gazette and the Script for pictures, and Mr.

Mike Gardner of the American Yearbook Company for his guidance and help in carrying out our plans. A special thanks goes to John Persona, Jr. for many hours spent planning and taking pictures with us. Our staff really deserves credit more than thanks for its part in the book. We would like to thank Mr. Ramond Miller and Business Manager Jef Player for handling the financial part of the WARRIOR so well. Also special thanks goes to our advisor, Miss Susan Tenney, for the time she spent with us and the patience it took.
